LOE SANTA'S TOY DRIVE

LOE kids came dressed in their holiday finery to see Santa.

On Friday, December 15th the fire truck sirens announced Santa's arrival in Lakes on Eldridge. Santa came to check his list and have his picture taken with our children. He also came to pick up the many, many gifts donated for children who would not have otherwise gotten a Christmas gift. A big THANK YOU to our many residents who so generously donated to this most worthy cause.

More than 100 children showed up to decorate the Christmas tree, see Santa, and have their pictures taken with him. While waiting for Santa's arrival, there was tree decorating, coloring, and a hayride around the neighborhood to see the beautiful Christmas decorations. Everyone enjoyed hot cocoa, apple cider, and cookies.

A special thank you to Georgia Shotwell and Toby Ellis of Keller Williams Realty-Memorial for sponsoring the hayride around our neighborhood to see the beautiful Christmas Decorations. Thank you to Gus Lester, Bronson Clay and Mark & Kimberley Massey for driving and navigating the hayride. Thank you to Nick & Phylene Jakobsen for the loan of their hay. A big thanks to our teenage volunteers, Jackie Clay and Russell Lyons for showing up early with their willingness to do absolutely anything to help. Thank you to Kathy Prusak, Rosa Clay, Don & Martha McGraw, Cecilia Freeman, Elizabeth Tobin and Dotie Gase for the much-needed help. A big thanks to Charles Lyons for taking charge and directing the lines for the hayride and Santa pictures. Thank you to Jerry Dunaway for taking the kids pictures with Santa Claus and making the party signs for the gates. Mr. Dunaway also set up a safe, private website so that our children's party pictures could be downloaded by parents. Many thanks to the Cy-Fair Volunteer Fire Department for bringing Santa Claus by to see our children.

THANK YOU ALL FOR ATTENDING AND CONTRIBUTING TO THIS GREAT PARTY!

Airport Noise

LOE is now in the flight pattern for both Intercontinental and Hobby Airports, which means air traffic has significantly increased. If you are concerned over the noise make a call to one or all of the numbers below. It is the number of calls and the people taking time to make them that make the most effective appeal for change for this situation.

- Houston Airport Noise Complaints Hotline: 281 233-3900
- Air Traffic Approach Number: 281 230-8441
- FAA Hotline: 1-800-255-1111

For Information Only.

Traffic Fines & Speed Bumps Coming to LOE?

Your Board continues to receive complaints of flagrant traffic violations specifically regarding poor observance of stop signs and speed limits. Also, the school bus drivers have notified us of residents passing stopped school buses that have their red lights flashing and are in the process of unloading and loading our school children. It is imperative that everyone stops when the school bus lights are flashing regardless of what side of the road you are on (it's the law!).

The Board recently arranged for a radar detector to be installed on Lake Shore Ridge as a gentle reminder to watch your speed and obey local traffic signs. Many favorable comments were received about the way brake lights came on and speeds dropped in that area. The radar detector unfortunately had to be returned and the speeds have gone back up.

Articles about speeding and stop signs have been printed in past newsletters, but have evidently not had the desired effect. The Board is therefore now faced with the dilemma of what to do to keep our community safe for all of our residents.

In the last few months we have a dead cygnet and another wounded one – both evidently hit by careless drivers, who apparently did not even have the courtesy to stop and report the accident. The swans in our neighborhood are beautiful animals that are a delight to everyone as they move about the lakes. Also, we have a dedicated group of residents that feed and care for them daily. The Board is concerned that the next accident may involve a child or other pedestrian.

Major concern was expressed at this year's Annual General Meeting about the driving habits of some people within LOE. This concern is completely understandable based on the evidence visible, mostly during rush hour times in the morning and afternoon. We realize there are mean streets here in Houston, but must encourage EVERYONE to make our streets safe for all our residents.

If we are not able to improve our driving inside the subdivision then the Board will be forced to consider the following items:

- modifying the existing LOE Parking Resolution with its associated fines to cover moving vehicle violations as well.
- having speed bumps installed at strategic locations throughout LOE.

Please slow down while traveling in our subdivision and obey all stop signs, and use your turn signals so others will know if you are planning to turn. This will help maintain the tranquility for which our neighborhood is so well known. Talk to your neighbors, and encourage all who might "bend" the rules to help keep our neighborhood safe.

LOE Christmas Decoration Contest

WOW! Wasn't the neighborhood beautiful? We certainly hope everyone drove around to see all the beautiful decorations this season. Many more homes were decorated this year, which was the purpose of this contest. A special thank you to each and every one of you residents that really got into the holiday spirit and made our neighborhood so pretty this time of year. We know the children enjoyed the lights as so many cars chocked full of kids were driving around viewing the lights at night. The Massey's even took neighbor kids around caroling on their hayride. We want to thank this year's judges, Vikki Barbre, Cecilia Freeman, Martha McGraw, Arthur and Catherine Spelling for their time and honest opinions. Now to congratulate the winners!

Bible Study at Lakes On Eldridge

The Bible study at the Lakes On Eldridge Beach Club meets every Tuesday morning from 9:15 to 11:30 A.M. This is a non-denominational group. All are welcome to come and make new friends, study God's Word, and pray for one another. Our subject this session is "Living the Balanced Life" from the Women of Faith Series. We live in a hectic world with many distractions that push our priorities out of their proper order. This study will help you make the necessary adjustments to your busy schedule and establish your spiritual life to be the support system it is meant to be.

Please join us for this enlightening study and share the opportunity to find just the right balance for you and your family. Life is meant to be beautiful and glorifying to God, but it is up to us to set our priorities straight to achieve the required balance. Study guides are available on site. There is no need to register, just come and enjoy the morning. We look forward to seeing you there any Tuesday morning.

TENNIS ANYONE?

I am looking for "A" level or "Championship" level tennis players for the Lakes on Eldridge Friday morning ladies tennis league. League starts at the end of January 2007 and runs through May 2007. You must be at least an "A" level player to play on a Championship team. We play other neighborhoods competitively and do travel. Cost is approximately $15.00 per person. Please contact Dianne for more information at 832-721-2030.

LOE BOOK CLUB

Book club meets on the 4th Monday of each month at 7:30 P.M. We try to read a wide variety of material, so if this month's selection doesn't appeal to you, maybe next month's will. Do join us when we tackle a book on which you have comments or opinions. We will again be meeting in various members' homes, so call or e-mail Celeste Fritz, 713-896-6942, cfritztx@houston.rr.com for additional information.

January 22nd – Blackberry Wine by Joanne Harris. Writer Jay Mackintosh reached his artistic zenith with Jackapple Joe, a novel he wrote 10 years ago, based on the time he spent as a boy with a crusty, enigmatic old man named Joseph Cox in the tiny English town of Kirby Monckton. Joe's stories, simple wisdom and folk charms—and his uncanny ability to make anything grow—made their time together magical. But old Joe disappeared one fall without a trace. Now, with his life going nowhere, Jay impulsively purchases a small cottage in the remote village of Lansquenet and relocates to the sleepy French countryside in an attempt to recapture the magic that vanished 20 years ago—and maybe even find “Jackapple Joe” again. Joanne Harris is the author of the novel Chocolat, which received widespread critical acclaim in the United States and abroad.

February 26th – Gregor Mendel: Genetics Pioneer by Della Yannuzzi. Gregor Mendel, born in 1822, was the son of a farmer. He excelled at academics, but had to struggle to continue his schooling after his father became ill. Later, he decided to become a monk and was able to pursue his interest in learning. While serving in an Austrian monastery, Mendel conducted experiments on plants in the garden, which led to his discoveries about heredity. Often called the father of genetics, Mendel was the first person to discover the basic principles of heredity, which describe how different traits, such as height and hair color, are passed on from generation to generation.

PLEASE NOTE

Landscapers and housekeepers should not have a remote to the community. Their names should be on file with the gate attendants and they should enter via the front entrance gate only. Please help control the access to our community by following these rules.

Trinity Vineyard Church

Who are we?

We love Jesus. We are growing through study of the bible. We find life and purpose in relationships. We exist to pursue God in the company of friends.

What's Happening This Month?

At Trinity Vineyard we believe that we are created to worship. Worship is one of our top priorities and we want anyone who attends our services to be able to enter into our time of worship together.

I like to compare public worship to the serving of a meal. Imagine that you are a dinner guest in someone's home. During the whole meal, no one speaks to you. There are no seats left, so you have to eat standing up in the corner. Most of the conversation is in a foreign language that you do not understand. When they do speak in English, they tell inside jokes of people and stories you do not know. The foods being served are uncommon and unusual to you. Imagine you are a guest in someone's home and they make no effort to include you. From beginning to end, you are shut out from any ability to enjoy the meal.

Unfortunately a lot of churches can be like this. There is religious language you don't understand. People are asked to do things that they have no context for. And guests are left feeling shut out and disregarded.

We have made a deliberate choice at Trinity Vineyard to be welcoming and understanding to our guests. Some churches target their entire services, from beginning to end, to their guests. If a guest doesn't like singing for 30 minutes, they don't do it. If a guest doesn't like a lot of bible teaching, they don't do it. At Trinity Vineyard, we don't take it quite that far.

Going back to the meal illustration...we are like a big family that is going to sit down and have a meal. Whether there are guests or not, we are going to come together and eat. We will do what we feel God has called us to do as a church – sing songs in worship, teach the bible, pray for one another, etc. But we always want guests to feel welcome to join us. We want to include them in our journey. Each week we strive to have a great meal that feeds the church and welcomes guests at the same time.

We all have very different backgrounds and experiences when it comes to public worship. Sadly, the way churches do public worship is one of the most divisive issues among Christians. It is one of the major ways people select a church. I certainly don't believe that we have come up with the perfect formula for worship, the only biblical approach for worship, the most authentic, or the most pleasing to God.

We worship the way we do because of our understanding of scripture and our philosophy of ministry. We would love for you to be our guest at our Sunday morning worship service anytime!

Eat less, live longer?

Baylor College of Medicine

HOUSTON—The fountain of youth may not be a fountain after all. Simply reducing caloric intake may help you lead a longer and healthier life.

Dr. William Wong, professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine's USDA Children's Nutrition Research Center in Houston, was awarded a $2.2 million grant from the National Institute of Aging to help determine if a reduction of calories can increase longevity and decrease the risk of chronic disease. Previous animal studies suggest this is the case.

Wong's lab will serve as the central doubly labeled water lab to support the NIA's Comprehensive Assessment of Long-term Effects of Reducing Intake of Energy, or CALERIE, study.

Doubly labeled water is a non-invasive way to estimate energy expenditure under free-living conditions, said Wong also co-director of the Obesity Center at Texas Children's Hospital. Participants drink the labeled water and return to their daily routine. Researchers label the water with two non-radioactive naturally-occurring isotopes -- deuterium, a heavier isotope of hydrogen, and oxygen-18, a heavier isotope of oxygen. The isotopes disappear at different rates over time because in addition to being eliminated from the body in the form of water, the oxygen-18 is also being eliminated from the body as it exchanges with carbon dioxide in the lungs. By then measuring the remaining levels of the isotopes in the urine, energy expenditure can be determined.

This method has been used safely in premature babies, newborns, children, adolescents, pregnant women and nursing mothers, said Wong.

The study will help determine the effects of a 25 percent caloric restriction on the physiology and chronic disease risk of normal weight adults. The study's findings will have important implications including dealing with the current obesity epidemic and the possible prevention of many age-related chronic diseases.

The phase 2 CALERIE clinical trial will study the effects of cutting calorie consumption by one-fourth. Wong's lab will use the doubly labeled water method to establish the participant's caloric need, which will then be decreased by 25 percent in participants assigned to the treatment group.

The study will follow two groups for two years with participants coming in periodically for follow-up doubly labeled water studies. "The follow-up visits of doubly labeled water studies are used to monitor compliance and to monitor the level of caloric restriction achieved by the study participants," said Wong. "The visits will also provide an additional measure on potential changes in body composition during the treatment period."
