BALCONES COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA TO PERFORM IN LAKEWAY

On Sunday, April 17, from 4 to 5 p.m., the Balcones Community Orchestra will perform at the Lakeway Activity Center, 105 Cross Creek, in Lakeway.

This fine symphonic orchestra is in its thirteenth season of bringing high-quality music to the Austin region. The all-volunteer group draws its repertoire from the masterworks for small orchestra, and presents free concerts in venues that approximate the conditions under which these works were first performed and heard.

Dr. Robert Radner is the orchestra's director. He has served on the music faculties of Texas State University and the College of Saint Scholastica, Eastern New Mexico University. He currently is the Orchestra Director for St. Edwards University.

The guest soloist for this performance will be Pianist Michelle Schumann. She has built a reputation for evocative and moving performances that are infused with unique energy and zeal. Winner of the 2006 Janice K. Hodges Competition for Contemporary Music, Schumann's programs feature meticulously integrated selections of classic and contemporary repertoire producing performances that are "smart, irresistible, and utterly captivating." (Austin-American Statesman) Schumann is Artist-in-Residence and Associate Professor of Piano at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor where she is the founder and Artistic Director of the Hillman Visiting Artists Series. Since 2006, Schumann has served as Artistic Director of the Austin Chamber Music Center.

The program will feature the Robert Schumann Piano Concerto in A Minor in its original, one movement form. This famous romantic concerto was completed in 1845. It was at the urging of his wife, Clara, that Schumann took earlier works and expanded them into this, the only piano concerto that he completed.

This concert is being produced by the City of Lakeway's Arts & Beautification Committee. It is free and open to the public. Donations will be accepted by the orchestra.

LAKEWAY CITY HALL ART GALLERY

Mary Barnes - April 18 - May 23, 2011

Lakeway artist and resident, Mary Barnes, will be exhibiting her work at Lakeway City Hall from April 18 through May 23, 2011. The exhibit may be viewed during regular City Hall office hours Monday through Friday, 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM. The Art Gallery is located off the lobby of City Hall at 1102 Lohmans Crossing.

Mary Barnes moved to Lakeway, Texas, in 1987 when her husband was transferred to Austin with 3M. Barnes was an Interior Designer until she retired in 1990. Her love of art began when she was young, winning a poster contest in grade school. Involved in the arts all her life, she worked directing dance programs and workshops with the South Dakota Arts Council and the Artist in the School programs.

"The elements of design, dance and painting are very similar, involving the manipulation of color, shapes patterns and textures. Developing a painting is an exciting journey in the exploration of color, movement and design."

She started painting in oil at The Bunkhouse, a ranch for artists, located in the Texas Hill Country. Many of her paintings depict scenes from the landscape and buildings around the ranch, Lake Travis and the Hill Country, as well as scenes from the Texas Coast. Painting trips to Venice and Rome Italy have also been the topics of many of her paintings.

Class and Workshops with Vie Dunn-Harr, Gay Fulkenberry, Lesley Rich, Bob Rohm, Don Ward, Charles Sovek, Robert BurrIDGE, Bobbie Kilpatrick have all brought their influence to her work.

Barnes has done many commissions and her paintings are in private collections. Her art has been in the Bunkhouse Gallery Show, Hill Country Wine and Art Trail Events, Lakeway City Hall, The Wall Street Gallery, and Cafe Lago. To contact Mary Barnes or to see more of her work, visit www.marybarnes.com.

LAKEWAY SING ALONGS TO PRESENT 'ROARING TWENTIES' SHOW

Reservations are now being taken for the Sing Along's annual Spring dinner/show, "The Roaring Twenties." The show will be held at the Lakeway Activity Center on Thursday, April 28; Friday, April 29; and Saturday, April 30, beginning at 6:30 pm.

Producer/Director Ernie Clay has chosen songs for the show that represent the particular trends that marked this dynamic time period in our history. Everyone in this decade was trying to be "new"--new dances, shorter hems and hair, new inventions--everyone was "pushing the envelope", as we would say today.

The chorus is now busy polishing all the songs--getting the harmony and the peppy rhythms just right. Some of them are also having fun learning the dances, like the Charleston & the Black Bottom, that show the energy and sense of fun of that time. The creative team of Shirley Cox, Delores Dolezal, and Pat Smith are whipping up authentic and colorful costumes that will bring the time to life. Sharon Rogers and Delores Dolezal are planning to create a "Jazz Age" ambiance in the Activity Center auditorium that will set up the expectations of the audience for the show to come.

The Sing Along shows are always a sell-out, so make your reservations early by contacting Joann Anderson, 261-3313. Reservations are $25 each.

Good Friday Tenebrae Service

Continuing a tradition begun five years ago, the combined choirs of The Lakeway Church and the Lake Travis United Methodist Church will present a Good Friday Tenebrae Service on April 22, 2011, beginning at 7:30 pm. The churches alternate venues each year; the service this year will be held at the Lake Travis United Methodist Church, 1502 RR 620 North, at Debba Drive.

"O Sacred Head Now Wounded" is a Good Friday Tenebrae Service presented by the combined adult Choirs of The Lakeway Church and Lake Travis United Methodist Church, under the direction of Mark Savage-Rains and Patty Highland. The choirs will be accompanied by Elden Little and Paola Perin, at the piano, along with an orchestra of strings, woodwinds, handbells and percussion. The music chosen to relate to the Scripture was composed by a wide variety of composers from J.S. Bach to Karl Graun (a contemporary of Bach) to William Billings (one of America's colonial composers) to the nineteenth century composer Theodore Dubois, to Pablo Casals (the great cellist), to contemporary composers like John Carter, Lloyd Larson, Jane Marshall and Anna Laura Page. The beautiful chorale "O Sacred Head Now Wounded" will be used throughout the service to unify and give direction to our worship.

This moving service will trace the Passion of Christ through scripture readings and related musical selections telling the story of Jesus' final days following the Passover meal with His disciples. The story begins with Jesus' time of prayer in the garden of Gethsemane followed by Judas' betrayal, His arrest, His mock trials, His beating, His conviction, and finally to the cross where He was crucified. The service will be presented in the form of a "Tenebrae" Service – candles will be snuffed out following each passage of scripture that is read and the service will end in darkness as we remember the death of Christ, the "Light of the world." Come journey with us through Scripture and powerful music, as we remember Christ's passion and death to redeem the people of the world.

Lake Travis Library District Closes on Land Donated By Haythem Dawlett for Home of Future Community Library

The vision of a permanent home for the Lake Travis Community Library grew closer to reality this week when Lake Travis Community Library District President, Carol Black, signed a deed with developer Haythem Dawlett to begin work on a new 10,862 square-foot building.

The new library will be located at Tuscan Village, a 42-acre age qualified, resort-style community at 1930 Lohman's Crossing Road in Lakeway. Tuscan Village is being developed by Legend Communities, of which Dawlett is a principal.

Dawlett's donation of over $1 million in land and improvements will allow the Lake Travis Community Library to build a facility that offers easier access by residents, as well as ample space for materials, computers, book clubs, book sales and summer programs for children. Since its founding in 1985, the library has shared space with Lake Travis High School for over 20 years and since 2006 has leased space in the Lohman's Crossing shopping center. It serves residents of Briarcliff, Hudson Bend, Lakeway, Spicewood and The Hills.

"It is a privilege to assist the Lake Travis Community Library District with this contribution of land for our newest community library," Dawlett said. "This organization and its volunteers have done so much for the residents of Lakeway over the years, and we are glad to offer them a site that will also be home to the community's first and only age qualified active living development. The new library will provide the perfect venue for family members of all ages throughout Lake Travis to read, learn and socialize for many years to come."

"Since the Lake Travis Community Library District's formation in May 2004, there have been committees and individuals seeking land on which to build the library to serve this large community," said Black. "Through Mr. Dawlett's generosity, it is possible to begin construction of this library. To honor this donation, the Children's Room in the new library will be named after Mr. Dawlett's children, Grant and Pierce. In addition to Mr. Dawlett's donation, the Friends of the Library have donated $80,000 to build this library. The Friends, with their 140 library volunteers, and the library staff, led by Ms. Morgan McMillian, have wished for a larger place in which to work. With the deed now signed, this will soon become a reality. Dreams really can come true for the 6,300 families that currently use the library."

Haythem Dawlett, principal of Legend Communities, and Carol Black, president of the Lake Travis Community Library District, sign a deed to begin work on a new 10,862 square-foot community library in Lakeway. Dawlett donated over $1 million in land and improvements to the library district, which serves residents of Briarcliff, Hudson Bend, Lakeway, Spicewood and The Hills. The new library will be located at Tuscan Village, a 42-acre age qualified retirement community being developed by Dawlett on Lohman's Crossing Road in Lakeway.

APPROACHING 50 YEARS OF LAKEWAY HISTORY

“High in the beautiful hills near Austin, Capital City of Texas, Lake Travis is the Southwest’s most desirable and spacious playground. The deep, clean waters, a cooling breeze and a lake extending for 65 miles provide an ideal setting for fishing, boating, swimming, water skiing, skin diving, and other sports and recreation.

Please visit Lake Travis soon. Come for a weekend, a vacation, a lifetime. You will be mighty (sic) welcome.

the years 1966-1967. When comparing the map of nearly 50-years ago to a map of today, it appears that it didn't take long for the secret to get out as thousands of people have chosen to make the 'visit' for a lifetime – at least in Lakeway.

When comparing the map of the mid-1960's to a map of today, it's clear that 'old' Lakeway (38) was initially developed west of what is now Lohman's Crossing Road at the intersection of Hurst Creek Road, and north of what is now Lakeway Boulevard (formerly named World of Tennis Boulevard when it was extended to RR 620 in the later phases of development of Lakeway).

As illustrated on the old map, the main paved roads were: Lohman's Ford Road, Hurst Creek, and Lakeway Boulevard (now Lakeway Drive). Lohman's Ford Road, shown extending to Lake Travis as an unpaved road, was the original road that led to Lohman's Ford (crossing the Colorado River), just north of the Lakeway Inn (this road was later named Challenger). When referencing a current map of Lakeway, it appears that the only other paved roads in Lakeway circa 1965 were: Porpoise, Sunfish, Bermuda, Sailfish, Dragon, Cutlass, and Highlander.

When the concept of Lakeway began in 1962, there were no telephone utilities in the immediate area. Those locations with telephones had numbers that were preceded with two-letters followed by five-numbers such as GR 2-9285 (see EMERGENCIES above). After the first pay-telephone was installed at what is now the southeast corner of Lakeway Boulevard and Lohman's Crossing Road in late 1962, subsequent residential telephone numbers were assigned as AN 3-XXXX. A historic marker has been embedded in a large boulder at the site to memorialize the first telephone in Lakeway.

According to the first 'official' telephone book of Lakeway dated August 1971, there were approximately 275 families living on 'new' streets named: Finn, Wee Scot, Mariner, Comet, Corinthian, Challenger, Electra, Eagle, Vanguard, Tartan, Gannet, Atlantic, Star, Capri, Seawind, Malabar, Snapper, Zephyr, Biscayne, and Teal. By that year, telephone numbers were assigned as 263-XXX. Although Lakeway was only known for the Lakeway Inn and a small residential and recreational/retirement community west of Lohman's Ford Road and north of Lakeway Boulevard, people were becoming attracted to the area.

Again referring to the map of the mid-1960's, although the roads were unpaved, an area known as Hidden Hills (36 and 37) in the Bee Creek area was attracting interest. What is now known as Clara Van Road leading to Hurst Harbor, was an unpaved road called Round Mountain Drive at an intersection called Scenic Loop or RR 620 directly adjacent to virtually the only true residential development along RR 620 at the time called Cardinal Hills Estates (41). By referring to the map it is clear that there was virtually no development south of the lake shore beyond Lakeway, with none between RR 620 and Lohman's Ford Road, and none north of SH71 nor in the Bee Cave area.

By this time (1965), the first nine-holes of golf opened at the Live Oak golf course, the Lakeway Inn was expanding due to its popularity, and in 1966 mail delivery began in Lakeway using rural route and box numbers (Rt. 7 Box XXX).

While much of the history of Lakeway has been documented in the late Byron Varner's book, Lakeway-The First 25 Years - first published in 1988 and reprinted in 2007 - a second book on Lakeway history is in the final stages for publishing to celebrate Lakeway's Golden Anniversary in 2013.

Further information about the history of Lakeway, the upcoming anniversary, or obtaining either of the books, is available through the Lakeway Heritage Center, located on the corner of Lohman's Crossing Road and Hurst Creek Road in Lakeway. Mail queries should be sent to 1102 Lohman's Crossing Road, Lakeway TX 78734; emails to history@lakeway-tx.gov; telephone 512-608-9533.

News You Can Use

Dear Lakeway Community Members,

Every day hundreds of reports of abuse and neglect are made to Child Protective Services for children living in Central Texas. After being investigated, many of these reports are found to be true and children are immediately removed from their home to ensure their safety.

In 2010 there were 3,148 children in foster care in the Central Texas area.

Many studies have documented that the outlook for foster youth who age out of the foster care system, without loving families, is often grim:

- One in four will be incarcerated within the first two years after they leave the system.
- Over one-fifth will become homeless at some time after age 18.
- Approximately 58 percent had a high school degree at age 19, compared to 87 percent of a national comparison group of non-foster youth.
- Of youth who aged out of foster care and are over the age of 25, less than 3 percent earned their college degrees, compared with 28 percent of the general population.

Recently, a six-month-old child came into foster care due to severe abuse from her parent. Her parent abused her so badly she had a skull fracture and three broken fingers. An amazing foster family was contacted and they quickly stepped up to the plate to care for this fragile child. Currently, the child is healing and the doctors expect a full recovery.

A 12 year old came into care after being sexually abused by her father, while her mother looked the other way. After years of being nurtured and loved by a single foster parent, she has now been accepted to college and is eager to become a productive member of society. Meanwhile, she knows she has this foster parent in her court.

These are just two stories of children being given second chances by foster and adoptive parents, several of whom live in the Lakeway Community. Each child has their own unique story and deserves a safe and loving home where they can begin to heal and be given the opportunity of childhoods free of abuse and neglect.

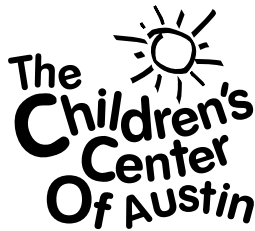

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP.

1 . BECOME A FOSTER PARENT! There is a huge need for safe and loving homes for the children of central Texas. Open your heart and home to a child who desperately needs you.

2 . BECOME AN ADOPTIVE PARENT! There is a huge need for adoptive parents. Especially for sibling groups and children over the age of two. Make a commitment to a child who deserves a permanent home.

Foster and adoptive parents as well as volunteers come in all shapes and sizes. They are single, they are married, they are newlyweds, they are grandparents. If you are interested in becoming a foster and/or adoptive parent but are worried about finances, it is important to realize that monthly subsidies are provided to parents caring for foster children and adopted children. Also, each child will be covered by Medicaid (covering medical and dental) until the age of 18, even if they are adopted.

It takes a community with loving, nurturing and healing arms to raise a child that has suffered abuse and/or neglect. Will you be part of that community?

To get involved, contact Caitlin Moe or Betsy Herrington at Texas MENTOR (512.804.2338), a foster care and adoption agency. Our goal is to have 40 Lakeway families directly involved in foster care by July 31st, 2011. Answer the call!

Call for Artists: Spicewood Arts Society's Arts Round-up

The Spicewood Arts Society ("SAS") is planning its eighth Arts Round-Up, a fine arts festival scheduled for October 22 & 23, 2011. The Arts Round-up Committee is calling for applications from central Texas artists who wish to join us in this wonderful Fall Art Festival in the fast growing Spicewood area. This year the festival will be held at a new location on the beautiful grounds surrounding the La Cabana Grill in a grove of live oak trees at 21103 Hwy 71 West in Spicewood.

Guest admission is free to the show, although donations to SAS are encouraged and greatly appreciated. Spicewood is an affluent and rapidly growing community with sophisticated art buyers. In addition, Spicewood is just a short drive from Marble Falls, Horseshoe Bay, Johnson City, Lakeway, Bee Caves, Oak Hill and Austin, providing participating artists the opportunity to exhibit their work to a variety of art patrons. We encourage all artists living or working in central Texas to apply.

Artists in all 2-D and 3-D media will display their works in their own tents. All artwork must be original work by the artist. A jury of artists and members of the SAS Board of Directors will select applicants for invitation to participate.

Fees:

Non-Refundable Application Fee: $25.00

Booth Fee for weekend: $140.00

Electricity add: $5.00

Application Deadline: Mon., May 31, 2011.

The goals for this show are to provide a cost effective venue for artists to display and sell their art and to provide fun for the whole family. Further information about the show and application information are available at www.SpicewoodArts.org.

Cardiovascular Disease and Women Think Red Heart

Do you know the number one killer of women in the United States? It's not breast cancer. Try again. It's heart disease. 489,000 women die from heart disease annually, not breast cancer, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. In a research study, the American Heart Association reported only 13 percent of all women in the United States are aware that heart disease can kill them or play a major threat in their lives. Women are bombarded with advertisements, news media, and commercials about how breast cancer can kill them. Yet, cardiovascular disease is playing a lethal role in women's health today, more so than cancer.

Cancer is the second killer of women. Though it's not breast cancer, but rather lung cancer. 73,000 women die annually of cigarette related lung cancer. In the United States 202,964 women were diagnosed with breast cancer in 2007, and 40,598 women died from this disease. Receiving regular mammograms and doing daily breast self-checking examinations are crucial for survival. Along with great surveillance, research, and early detection fewer women are succumbing to this disease. Colorectal cancer is the third leading cancer killer in women.

The fact is heart disease is the number one killer in women. Women need to think more Red, along with Pink. Heart disease is a preventable disease and can be controlled. Yes, many contributing factors, such as genetics, gender, and ethnicity, do play a role. However, lifestyle is a major culprit in heart disease. Adopting a healthy lifestyle, which includes the following factors, can reduce the risk of contracting heart disease:

- Exercise regularly.
- Control other contributing factors such as blood pressure, diabetes, hypertension, and cholesterol.
- Maintain a well-balanced nutritional menu that is rich in fruits and vegetables, whole grains, and lean meats.
- Eat high fat foods sparingly.
- Reduce the amount of sodium, sugar, and alcohol.
- Maintain a health body weight.
- Cook meals more frequently.
- Limit pre-packaged foods.
