YOUTH SPORTS EXPO

Friday, May 13, the Eagle Springs Sports Field Committee hosted a special free event for the families of Humble, Atascocita, and the surrounding areas. The purpose of this event was to introduce kids to new sports and activities that they may be interested in. Representatives from established local organizations were available to answer parent's questions about the sport and to demonstrate techniques to the children. Our theme was "Helping our local kids find their next new passion!" It's our firm belief that a healthy, happy child is one that is active in at least one activity or sport they enjoy.

Held on a Friday evening in the Eagle Springs Sports Complex from 6 to dusk, 18 different youth sports were presented to local kids and parents. Families were greeted upon arrival and provided with a map of the complex, which showed the location of each sport. The children were directed to visit each sport and complete the station's activity. Each sport station was stamped on the map when a child completed the task and a raffle ticket was awarded for each stamp.

Each organization present donated at least one item to be raffled. From t-shirts, to uniforms, to sporting equipment, to free lessons or registrations, these organizations were extremely generous.

HIT Gym, a boxing organization, set up what was probably the favorite station of the evening. A practice-boxing ring was erected right on the football field. Actual students were on hand to demonstrate various techniques and kids were allowed to try out the gloves. All the while, spectators were reminded that fighting was only allowed at the gym under supervision and not a way to resolve conflict elsewhere. Barbera won their raffle bag of t-shirt, key chain, hand wraps, and 1 month of training.

Another popular station was that offered by Kingwood Lacrosse. Many families were unfamiliar with the sport of lacrosse and enjoyed watching some of the older kids demonstrate moves and techniques as well as the equipment. One attendee, Chase Pena said, "Lacrosse is really cool, when can I sign up Mom?"

The Humble Area Football League generously donated 4 free football registrations and 1 free cheer registration ($1,100 value). Several coaches and representatives were on hand to man a large football obstacle course, complete with tackling dummies. The kids had a blast with this event. Right next door, with a simple cheer, jump, or cartwheel, and extra stamp was earned from the HAFL Cheer side of the organization.

Athletic Republic, a company that offers more generalized fitness training, also offered an obstacle course using Sparq equipment. Their very generous raffle donation was one month of training, a $450 value! Raffle winner, Stacey, was very excited about her prize. Her son, a middle school football player, will benefit greatly from the additional strength training.

Texas Heat Wave soccer brought out a bunch of players in uniform and had a soccer dribbling drill set up. A free soccer registration was given to one lucky raffle winner. The mother of the winner shared, "My daughter has wanted to try out the sport of soccer. This is a great way for me to let her give it a try but at a low cost for our family."

Texas Xtreme Cheer set up a tumbling mat and youngsters were thrilled to find that with help, they too could perform flips and cart wheels. Gracie was thrilled to win a cheer t-shirt and shorts set, while Beverly snagged a cheer bag in the raffle. Similarly, Profusion Performing Arts worked with kids on simple dance moves, had recital costumes on display, and gave away a gorgeous basket with a leotard, tights, tutu, hair accessories, and 1 month of free lessons.

The Gym and the Atascocita Basketball Association set up a portable basketball goal for the kids to shoot at, as they handed out gift bags to each child along with t-shirts for all. The Lake Houston YMCA was available to discuss their sports programs, while offering a soccer goal activity and a free sports season. Houston Youth Track set up a 50-yard dash and provided a visor and t-shirt for raffle.

Extra Innings and Texas Elite came out to represent baseball. They set up radar to time the speed of kids' throws. They also handed out blow up spirit sticks that the kids greatly enjoyed. Humble Girls Softball League had a conflicting tournament, but was able to send informational fliers as well as a generous raffle of 5 season registrations.

One of the Eagle Springs tennis pros, Fernando Mateu, worked with kids on their underhand serve and forehand swing. Sandra Prado Photography was on hand to display their sports photography creations and gave away 5 photo packages. Several local Scouts troops were on hand (Cub Scout Pack 926 and 912, Boy Scout Troop 9) to show off their various badges and uniform trim, as well as a sample campsite complete with full size assembled tent.

A small concession stand offered drinks and candy with all profits donated to the Eagle Springs Elementary P.E. Department.

Kids and parents stopped by our volunteers and all shared how much they'd enjoyed the event. One youngster, 3-year-old son of Connie, shared, "I want to join the Punching Club!" Several families, who were newly relocated to the Humble area, were very pleased with this one-stop shop for all of the information for which they'd been looking. The volunteers themselves Julie, Lynette, Rudy, Kevin, Roy, and Heather all thoroughly enjoyed the experience. Tired, yet thrilled with the turnout and smiling faces of the attendees, they promised to repeat the event.

Showing & Selling Your Home While Owning Pets

When preparing your home for an open house our professionals strongly encourage homeowners who have pets to relocate the animal during viewing hours. This protects your pet from the common occurrences that come with foot traffic, such as an open front door or a gate that wasn't shut properly, in addition to the stress of unfamiliar people in the home. Restricting a pet to an area within the home also limits the area potential buyers can view, so removing the animal from the home is ideal. See below for our tips to sell your home when you have pets.

- 1. Lawn Maintenance. First impressions last so remove any droppings from your lawn.
- 2. Neutralize Odors. Litter boxes, training pads, pet beds should be thoroughly cleaned or temporarily taken out of the house to eliminate any offensive odors.
- 3. Vacuum. Pet hair is unsightly, as are stains, so remember to sweep or vacuum all floors, rugs and furniture. Professional carpet cleaners may be necessary to fully eradicate any pungent odors or stains.
- 4. Purify Air. Some would-be buyers may be allergic to pet dander so in addition to vacuuming, change all air-conditioning filters. Remember, if a potential buyer is hit with an allergy attack entering your home, odds are they will not stay to see the rest of your home.

5. Declutter and Depersonalize. Food bowls, pet toys, beds, crates and medicines should be stowed out of sight.

6. Repair Any Damage. If your pet has chewed through your fence or scratched the front door, repair or replace it so it doesn't detract from the space.

As we head into Hurricane season now is a good time to check your insurance policy. Do you currently have flood insurance? If not, you may want to consider adding it to your policy. It's an inexpensive way to protect your home. Be sure to get in touch with your insurance agent today because you may not be able to add it once a hurricane enters the Gulf of Mexico. Attention sellers, did you know that home owner insurance binders cannot be issued while a hurricane is in the Gulf of Mexico? If you have a closing scheduled to occur during hurricane season, keep an eye on the weather. Be sure to alert your Realtor to this fact so they can make sure the buyer has secured an insurance binder prior to any hurricanes entered the Gulf of Mexico. Have a safe July 4th with your family and friends!

Respectfully,
Rebekah Snipp

It's impossible to tell from the curb if a home is truly "Green." That's why knowing the right questions to ask is essential. Here are three important ones to start with...

- 1 Was it built using Advanced Framing techniques to accommodate 50% more insulation in the outside walls?
- 2 Does it come with a high performance 15 SEER A/C system with fresh air ventilation?
- 3 Can you show me the utility bill?

You can find more information about David Weekley EnergySaver HomesSM on our website. Then stop by one of the "Behind Our Walls" Green Rooms and discover more energy-saving techniques. (And yes, we'd love to show you our utility bills.)

PRINCETON PARK

Behind the gates here in Princeton Park lies a small, quiet community of around 50 home-sites being built by David Weekley and a beautifully landscaped park with a water feature.

Our homeowners consist of young couples and families, as well as empty nesters. Princeton Park residents enjoy the privacy of a gated community as well as year-around front lawn care.

Get-togethers are popular in our neighborhood; it could be a picnic at the park, Christmas party at a neighbor's home or a book club meeting in another home.

Our neighbors have their own e-mail group so if there is a problem or a party everyone is notified quickly. Currently there are several homes built and ready for a new neighbor to move in! There are also many lots in Princeton Park ready to have a home of your choice built on. We love meeting our new neighbors as they move in and look forward to the day we are completely built out.

If you have any questions or concerns, the Neighborhood Reps for Princeton Park are:

Michelle Button and Beverly Shermer. Their contact information can be obtained via the Eagle Springs website: www.INSIDEEAGLESprings.com.

LET'S BE WATERSMART!

Submitted by Michelle Dueitt

Due to extreme drought conditions in the Greater Houston area, we would like to remind Eagle Springs' residents to conserve water. Continued high water demand in conjunction with our current weather conditions could cause an unnecessary strain on the water system that supplies water to Eagle Springs or ultimately water restrictions.

You'll find that you can save hundreds of gallons of water inside your home each year when you become WaterSmart! Here are some tips for water conservation:

INSIDE THE HOME

- Wash only full loads of clothes and dishes
- Never leave water running while brushing your teeth
- Short showers use less water than baths
- Repair leaky fixtures such as faucets and toilets

OUTSIDE THE HOME

- Water plants and yard only when necessary
- Never water or use sprinklers during the heat of the day
- Introduce native plants to your property
- Postpone washing your vehicle
