HEALTH BRIEFS - OCTOBER 2011

TOBACCO SMOKE CAN TRIGGER CHILD'S ASTHMA ATTACK

Exposure to smoke can worsen your child's asthma and should be eliminated to help effectively manage symptoms, said a pediatric pulmonologist at Baylor College of Medicine. "Sometimes treating a child's asthma means treating the parent's tobacco addiction," said Dr. Harold Farber, associate professor of pediatrics - pulmonary at BCM and associate medical director of the Texas Children's Health Plan at Texas Children's Hospital.

If your child has asthma and you are a smoker, Farber said it's critical to get your tobacco dependence treated. "When you smoke, whether it's indoors or out, your child is exposed to the irritant," said Farber. He encouraged smokers to talk to their doctors and to call the free national smoker's help line at 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669) for assistance to become smoke free.

VITAMIN C PROTECTS, MAINTAINS HEALTHY BONE MASS

Vitamin C plays an important role in maintaining bone mass - promoting the balance between old bone resorption and new bone formation, said a Baylor College of Medicine doctor. Most experts recommend vitamin D, calcium, exercise and bisphosphonates to keep bones healthy, said Dr. Kenneth Gabbay, professor of pediatrics - molecular diabetes and metabolism at BCM. Vitamin C is sometimes left out of the healthy bone equation but studies show that it's equally important. Food high in vitamin C includes oranges, strawberries, dark, leafy lettuce, broccoli, bell peppers and fresh herbs. Most daily vitamin supplements also contain vitamin C.

SLEEPING PILLS NOT EASY ANSWER

When sleep doesn't come easily, some people turn to what they think is an easy solution - sleeping pills. But according to a Baylor College of Medicine sleep expert, sleep medications - whether prescription or over-the-counter - shouldn't be taken lightly. "All medications have side effects that need to be weighed whenever you take them," cautioned Dr. Phil Alapat, assistant professor of pulmonary, critical care and sleep medicine at BCM and medical director of the BCM Sleep Center. Some of the most common prescription sleep medications are non-benzodiazepine hypnotics, like Ambien and Lunesta. These medications are not physically addictive and will not cause withdrawal symptoms when a person stops taking them. However, many people depend on them because they believe they cannot sleep without them, Alapat said.

One of the most common over-the-counter sleep aids is the nutritional supplement melatonin. It is helpful for some people but Alapat cautioned that it is not , an FDA regulated substance. Over-the-counter sleeping pills may also contain antihistamines and while these can help a person sleep, they have other side effects, including dry eyes and mouth. They may also cause an altered mental state, and this can be especially concerning in older adults, Alapat said. Before turning to any type of sleep aid, Alapat recommends a visit to a physician, or a sleep disorders specialist.

BEST BETS IN BEVERAGES FOR KIDS

When your kids need something to drink, reconsider reaching for that juice box. It's easy to get confused about what is and what is not a fruit juice. According to Roberta Anding, a registered dietitian at Baylor College of Medicine, if the label does not say 100 percent juice, it is not genuine fruit juice but fruit-flavored instead. Such fruit-flavored beverages, like many of those handy little juice boxes, have higher sugar content than fruit juice and are even comparable to sodas. A better option is to substitute actual pieces of fruit for fruit juice or fruit-flavored drinks.

Healthy beverage choices are important throughout the day to keep hydrated and provide good nutrition. Anding suggests following a beverage pyramid, much like the well-known food pyramid. "Kids should drink mostly water, then low-fat or skim milk, and then real fruit juice in moderation," she said. "Limit sodas since they are full of sugar and have no nutritional value."

Parents can help their children make healthy beverage choice by making healthy options available and being a good role model.

BRITT'S BOOK BUZZ: THE HUNGER GAMES

by Suzanne Collins

Remember the compelling and cult-following TV show, Lost? To me, The Hunger Games is the literary equivalent in that the writers creatively demonstrated survival and unity when faced with extremely harsh circumstances. The difference is that while Lost was the result of a plane crash on a strange island where anything could happen, The Hunger Games is ruled by the Capitol where young adults fight to the death as a form of entertainment for the government.

Set in the not so distant future, North America as we know it has been completely reorganized into separate districts (12 of them) all closely controlled by the militant, big brother, harsh "Capitol." These districts were formed when the Earth had become so violated environmentally and morally that war broke out. As a reminder to all of the segregated districts that rebellion is not tolerated, there is a yearly "Hunger Game" where a male and female from each district aged 12-18 is chosen at random to fight each other to the death. There can only be one victor and everything is televised, complete with sponsors.

It is in district 12 that the heroine, Katniss Everdeen lives with her mother (a healer) and her younger sister. Her father was killed in a mining accident but left his oldest daughter with the gifts and talents of hunting, which is her family's key to survival.

When Katniss' sister is chosen as one of the "tributes" to fight in the hunger games, Katniss volunteers in her place. Her male counterpart, Peeta, is also chosen.

Their experience at the Capitol and the whole tradition around the hunger games is so intriguing and fascinating as are the people they encounter. However, it is the way the hunger games are so carefully and technologically orchestrated and Katniss' amazing ingenuity and will to live and survive that kept me reading and enjoying the brutal, yet thoroughly entertaining book. At the time I am writing this review, I am already on the final book of the trilogy!

This book has it all -- a love triangle, a heroine, an underdog, fighting, mystery, science fiction--it is a reader's big Kit Kat bar!

Target Heart Rate Range for Cardiovascular Exercise:

DO YOU KNOW YOURS?

By Sarah Jordan, MS

Are you getting the most you can from your cardiovascular exercise program? Determining your target heart-rate range may help you see more results and become more aware of the intensity of exercise that you are completing. I love to empower my clients by educating them on this personalized range. And even more so, I enjoy seeing their faces light up when they tell me about the results they are seeing because of their success in using it.

A few things to remember about calculating target heart-rate range (THRR):

- Always check with your doctor before starting or changing your exercise program. To best determine your fitness level and training zones, seek a fitness assessment from a certified professional personal trainer. Numbers provided here are just estimates.
- These estimates are for healthy individuals. Remember that conditions like pregnancy, health issues, and some medications can affect your heart rate.

- There are times when your mid-exercise heart rate will be below or above your target heart rate range, and that is okay. But use the THRR as a goal to work within most of the time.
- A good estimate of your maximum heart rate is $220 - \text{your age}$.

Calculating your target heart-rate range:

Knowing how to take your pulse and find your heart rate during exercise can help you evaluate the effectiveness of your exercise program. Using the Karvonen formula, we can calculate target heart-rate range (THRR). We do the following to calculate our low and high end of our THRR:

$$220 - \text{age} - \text{resting heart rate} \times \text{low end of training zone} + \text{resting heart rate} = \text{_____}$$

(low end of THRR)

$$220 - \text{age} - \text{resting heart rate} \times \text{high end of training zone} + \text{resting heart rate} = \text{_____}$$

(high end of THRR)

— Step 1 —

Calculate your resting heart rate.

The best time to do this is first thing in the morning before you get out of bed. Take a 60-second count, and write your resting heart rate value down.

— Step 2 —

Determine what training zone you will use based on your current level of fitness.

Estimates provided by www.acefitness.org: Low level of fitness: 45-55%; Fair level of fitness: 55-65%; Good level of fitness: 65-75%; Excellent / elite level of fitness: 75-85%. (These are just examples and can be changed to best fit your current level of fitness. For the most accurate calculation, get a fitness assessment.)

— Step 3 —

Calculate your target heart-rate range using the Karvonen formula.

— Step 4 —

Learn how to use this heart-rate range regularly in your cardiovascular workouts.

For example: A healthy 30-year old female with a good level of fitness and a resting heart rate of 60 beats per minute and using a training zone of 60-80%:

$$220 - 30 - 60 \times .60 + 60 = 138 \text{ beats per minute}$$

$$220 - 30 - 60 \times .80 + 60 = 164 \text{ beats per minute}$$

Using this calculation, her target heart-rate range is 138 – 164 beats per minute.

So the question is, “Now that I know my target heart-rate range, how do I actually apply that to my workouts?”

Follow these steps for success:

- Calculate your target heart-rate range and write it down where you can easily find it.
- Find a range that you can remember. For example: For the 30-year old female above, her range is 138-164 beats per minute. That is hard to remember mid-exercise, so she should do this:
 - Determine and remember the range you should find in a 6-second pulse count. (Ex: 13-17 beats in 6-second pulse count, as this would equal 130 – 170 beats in a minute, which aligns with her THRR.) – She takes her pulse (mid-exercise) for 6 seconds, and should get 13-17 beats.

- Practice and learn to take your pulse properly.
Taken from <http://my.clevelandclinic.org/heart/prevention/exercise/pulsethr.aspx>:
 - Place the tips of your index, second and third fingers on the palm side of your other wrist below the base of the thumb. Or, place the tips of your index and second fingers on your lower neck on either side of your windpipe.
 - Press lightly with your fingers until you feel the pulse beneath your fingers. You may need to move your fingers around slightly up or down until you feel the pulsing. If placing fingers on neck, be sure you don't press too hard.
 - Use a watch with a second hand, or look at a clock with a second hand.
- Count your pulse for 6 seconds. Multiply this number by 10 (add a “0”) to get your heart rate (pulse) / beats per minute.
- Give yourself time to get comfortable using this method. It will pay off in the long run!

Everyone wants to find ways to make their fitness routines more efficient. It is my hope that using the target heart-rate range will be one way of doing just that.
