A special greeting to our Lakeway Friends:

Soleil (so-LAY), a new place in the sun high above Lake Travis, is receiving rave reviews! With the addition of Executive Chef David Burton Sanchez (former owner & chef at Apatite), as Rob Balon said, "it's a brand new day" at SOLEIL. Balon, a highly respected food critic, stated that, "this guy may already be one of the top 10 chefs in the entire Southwest." Please read his full review on www.diningoutwithrobbalon.com.

Majority owner, Beau Theriot states, "Our goal is for SOLEIL to be your upscale casual bar & grill. Call for dinner reservations or just show up for Happy Hour, great appetizers, live music on Wednesdays & Thursdays, and enjoy the ambiance like no other on Lake Travis. I welcome you with open arms to come enjoy the new SOLEIL."

5th Annual Lake Travis Springfest Returns to Bee Cave, Texas

The Lake Travis Chamber of Commerce is partnering with the Hill Country Galleria and Shops at the Galleria, centrally located in Bee Cave, Texas, to present the 5th. Annual SpringFest, a community festival filled with shopping, food, music and fun for the whole family. SpringFest kicks off at 11AM on Saturday, April 28th. "It is the BIGGEST time in the smallest town with vendor and merchant shopping galore, a KidZone the size of a football field, a boat expo featuring the latest and greatest in watercraft and a BBQ cook-off to determine this year's Lake Travis Rib King", says SpringFest Chair, Will Mitchell.

"We look forward to another electrifying event in Bee Cave," says Laura Mitchell, IOM, President of the Chamber. "This amazing festival is a fun event for all ages filled with great music, a huge KidZone and unique shopping." SpringFest anticipates welcoming 10,000-12,000 attendees to this year's event. The phenomenal line up of performing arts and live music includes PAIYH Dance Studios, TexARTS, Camille Sanders and headliner, Bruce Robison & Kelly Willis.

Stroll through 150+ local and regional artisan vendor booths for an experience that is only found in South Lake Travis. Everyone is welcome, and admission is FREE! Bring the kiddos – they will have hours of fun playing in our KidZone (nominal fee) complete with a Kiddie Ferris Wheel, bounce houses, the Screamin' Demon, Tubs o'Fun, face-painting and more. Visit the Boat Expo with superior watercraft from Sail & Ski Center. Enjoy your favorite food and beverages from Maudie's Tex-Mex and Tug's Bar-B-Que throughout the event. "The expansion over to the Shops at the Galleria is new this year with large rides in the KidZone, live music and food/beverages. Downtown Bee Cave comes alive and the Hill Country Galleria and Shops at the Galleria are extraordinary venues and the perfect hosts for SpringFest," adds W. Mitchell. "There will be transportation to and from the Shops and Hill Country properties, so no need to worry about parking. Partnering with both properties provides us with an opportunity to create a strong, positive economic impact on the local economy not just for the day, but throughout the year."

"SpringFest would not be possible without generous partners and dedicated support of our sponsors." "We would like to thank the Shops at the Galleria, Hill Country Galleria, Spanish Oaks, Community Impact Newspaper and Whole Foods for their contributions to this community festival," says Will Mitchell. For more information on live music show times, vendor and BBQ cook-off applications for SpringFest, visit LakeTravisSpringFest.com. For additional information, please contact the Lake Travis Chamber of Commerce office via email at SpringFest@LakeTravisChamber.com or (512) 263-5833.

PRESCRIPTION DRUG TAKE-BACK DAY
SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY, APRIL 28, 2012

On Saturday, April 28, 2012, from 10:00 am – 2:00 pm at the Lakeway Police Department, 104 Cross Creek, Lakeway, Texas, the Lakeway Police Department (LPD) will once again team up with the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) and the Austin Tactical Division Squad to conduct a fourth National Prescription Drug Take-Back Day to provide a venue for city residents and others who want to dispose of unwanted and unused prescription drugs.

Police Chief Todd Radford encourages your participation in this event. "We are proud to be a part of this national initiative and encourage anyone who may be in possession of unwanted or expired pharmaceutical items to bring them to the PD for destruction. At last year's Prescription Take-Back Day, residents dropped off more than 127 pounds of drugs, keeping them off our streets and out of our environment."

The National Prescription Take-Back Initiative provides an opportunity for the public to bring expired, unwanted or unused controlled, uncontrolled, and over the counter medications for destruction. These drugs are a potential source of supply for illegal use and pose an unacceptable risk to public health and safety.

This initiative addresses a vital public safety and public health issue. More than seven million Americans abuse prescription drugs, according to the 2009 Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's National Survey on Drug Use and Health. Each day, approximately, 2,500 teens use them to get high for the first time, according to the Partnership for a Drug-Free America. Studies show that a majority of abused prescription drugs are obtained from family and friends, including from the home medicine cabinet.

The DEA in conjunction with state and local law enforcement agencies throughout the United States conducted National Prescription Drug Take-Back Days on Saturday, September 25, 2010, and April 25, 2011, and October 29, 2011. When the results of the three prior Take-Back Days are combined, the 5,327 take-back sites removed 995,185 pounds (498.5 tons) of medication from circulation in the past 13 months.

The collection will be quick, convenient, and secure, supervised by law enforcement. The collection is free and open to the public, no appointments are necessary. Participants may dispose of medication in its original container, crossing out personal information, or by removing the medication from its container and disposing of it directly into the disposal box. This program is anonymous and no questions or requests for identification will be made. No effort will be made by the Lakeway Police Department to count, inventory, or log medications.

LAKEWAY'S BIG BAND BASH

The City of Lakeway's monthly Big Band Bash is continuing to draw dancers and listeners. On Monday April 9, from 8 to 10 pm, the Big Band Bash will take place at the Lakeway Activity Center, 105 Cross Creek, tel. 261-1010. This free monthly event (donations to the band will be encouraged) offers a large dance floor, with both theatre and table seating. Attendees may bring their own refreshments, if desired, as none will be provided. There are no reservations—doors will open at 7:30 p.m. Well known singers, David Cummings and Lisa Clark, are featured with The Republic of Texas Band. It is a 17- piece band, conducted by Kent Dugan. This band consistently draws crowds of dancers of many generations. Expect to hear favorite tunes (with fresh arrangements) from the Frank Sinatra era.

Get your dancing shoes polished, dress up a bit (not formal), and come out to dance and/or listen to some really great music by one of Austin's very best bands.

Whole Foods Market® ANNOUNCES OPENING DATES FOR TWO NEW AUSTIN AREA STORES

Whole Foods Market announced the opening dates today for two new Austin area stores, one in Bee Cave at the Hill Country Galleria, opening May 16th, and another in southwest Austin at the Arbor Trails shopping center located at Loop 1 and William Cannon, opening on June 19th. Both Whole Foods Market stores will be about 35,000 square feet in size and will each employ 150 to 200 Team Members.

"These are the first new stores in Austin since the late 1980s, with the exception of our relocated stores. Our guests have told us they'd like to see more stores in our hometown and we have been working hard to make that happen," said Mark Dixon, Regional President for the company's southwest region, "We're excited to be able to provide the highest quality natural and organic products to other parts of the greater Austin area."

The new stores will offer shoppers the essential Whole Foods Market experience, with a variety of natural, local and organic foods in an environment designed for every member of the family and a diverse range of lifestyles. Both stores will feature made in house chef-prepared foods including some tried and true favorites in Austin including pizza, tacos and barbecue. Both locations will have in-store bars with beer and wine on tap. In line with the company's core value of caring about its communities and the environment, the two stores will offer complimentary electric vehicle charging stations. The Bee Cave store will also have a large rainwater collection unit and outdoor seating areas designed to be a relaxing haven and social gathering stop for friends and families.

Both stores will open with a bread-breaking ceremony, and grand opening activities will continue throughout the first week including tastings, demonstrations from local producers, and events that reflect the culture of the communities the stores are joining.

"We've really enjoyed getting to know our new neighbors at both locations and they've been instrumental in helping us settle in," said Rebecca Scofield, Community Relations Coordinator for the Austin metro, "We'll be hosting our regular community giving days and are looking forward to helping out some very worthy nonprofit organizations with our event during opening week at each store."

Store Team Leaders are already in place for both the new stores. Steph Steele, formerly the Store Team Leader at Austin's flagship store on Sixth Street and Lamar, will join Arbor Trails. "I live in this neighborhood, and am so thrilled to see a Whole Foods Market store become a part of the growing southwest Austin community!" said Steele.

The Bee Cave Store Team Leader, Wade Taylor, comes back to the Austin area from the Whole Foods Market San Antonio Quarry store. "The key to both new Austin area stores is convenience," said Taylor, "we're bringing the high quality standards and pleasurable shopping experience our customers expect to more parts of town, and that's something we hope our shoppers in these communities will be excited about. I know we are!"

Last Chance to Buy a Brick for the Lake Travis Community Library!

Have you purchased your brick to be permanently placed at the new Lake Travis Community Library? The 11,000 square foot building will be completed before the end of the year and the time to buy a brick is now!

"We have sold nearly 300 bricks so far, but I know that there are people in the community who are still interested and intend to make a donation," said Library Director Morgan McMillian. "The deadline is now! Concrete is being poured this spring, so we must have all brick donations by the end of April."

Commemorative bricks can be purchased by residents and businesses to honor whoever they like to help fund the new library building. The Pathway of Friends engraved bricks come in three sizes and each brick will be engraved with two to four lines celebrating whatever the donor chooses. Donations will be based on the size of the brick and are priced at $125, $250 and $500 each.

"The new facility will have two pathways in which bricks purchased by donors will be placed," said Ginger Gober, fundraising co-chair. "The Library Pathway will consist of bricks honoring individuals, organizations or businesses, while the Veterans Pathway will honor those who served in the military. Five percent of the Veterans brick donations will also be donated to the nonprofit organization Luke's Wings."

Whether you choose to honor the person who first introduced you to the joys of reading, promote your business, or show your patriotism, a brick donation will impact the Invest in Lifelong Learning Capital Campaign and become a lasting part of the Lake Travis Community Library.

"This is a wonderful opportunity to permanently recognize someone important to you and help contribute to our new library building," said Gober. "But, time is running out! Donations must be made by the end of April to ensure that there will be space."

For more information on the brick program, please contact the library or Ginger Gober at (512) 266-9567 and ginger@alangober.com.

The Lake Travis HS Cavalettes Celebrate 30th Year with Annual Spring Show – Forever Royale!

This season the Lake Travis High School Cavalettes have been celebrating their 30th year, or “30th Line” as they say in drill team lingo. And what an amazing season it’s been. They’ve kicked their way through ten regular season football games, five playoff games and a history-making 5th consecutive state championship game at Cowboy Stadium. Along the way, they were selected by an elite national dance production company to represent Central Texas in the 2012 Rose Bowl Parade. So after a short two week break from a memorable football season, it was off to Pasadena, California for two days of intense pre-parade practices, sometime lasting until 2am, and then to perform the opening number at the world’s most famous parade.

The team returned from their successful parade performance in Pasadena tired and sore, but with their competition season just around the corner there was no time to rest. Since February the team has competed in five State, Regional and National competitions. Keeping with their reputation as one of Texas’ most successful teams, they have won top awards for technique, presentation, precision, and overall choreography. Their last competition was March 10th, and the following Monday they were back in the dance studio gearing up for their highlight performance of the year – the Annual Spring Show appropriately entitled “Forever Royale”.

Celebrating the 30th Line of the Lake Travis Cavalettes, this year’s Spring Show at the LTHS Performing Arts Center again promises to be a performance extravaganza not to be missed. Showtimes are Friday, April 20 and Saturday, April 21 at 7:00pm. There is also a special matinee show on Saturday, April 21 at 2:00pm, which will feature exciting performances by the dance programs from Lake Travis Middle School, Hudson Bend Middle School and Lake Travis High School, with a very special performance by the Cavalettes. Special guest performers will also include local dance studios, the LTHS Choir and Cheer Squad -- and more!

Forever Royale tickets are available starting April 9 at the Lake Travis High School Athletic Office, with prices for evening performances of $5 for students, $8 general admission, and $10 for reserved seats. For the Saturday matinee, prices are $3 for students, $5 general admission, and $8 reserved.

Come help the Cavalettes celebrate an award-winning 30th season!

34th Annual Pecan Street Festival Celebrates Austin This Spring

ENJOY LOCAL ARTISTRY AND MUSIC SATURDAY, MAY 5 AND SUNDAY, MAY 6

The celebrated bi-annual Pecan Street Festival is pleased to announce the Spring 2012 festival will take place on May 5 and 6, 2012 in downtown Austin. The FREE festival features artisans and musicians from all over the U.S. and introduces observers to cultures from around the globe. Festival goers can find paintings, woodwork, candles, jewelry, clothing, home décor other useful and whimsical household items.

This year, the festival aims to encourage green living with the use of recycling programs and organic vendors. It will also promote healthy living by providing fresh food options and a “calorie counting” challenge. Proceeds benefit local city and non-profit organizations, such as The City of Austin and Austin Boxer Rescue in years past. Speaking of pets, the Pecan Street Festival invites Austin residents to bring their four-legged friends for some canine fun, courtesy Austin Pets Alive.

In its 34th year, The Pecan Street Festival is a local tradition that celebrates the city’s artistic and diverse culture and commemorates everything “Austin.” From magic shows for the kids to three live music stages for the adults, there is something for everyone to enjoy. This Spring, the Festival is also placing an emphasis welcoming the Hispanic community in conjunction with Cinco de Mayo. Without a doubt, attending The Pecan Street Festival is the best FREE weekend Austinites can have!

The Pecan Street Festival is the oldest and largest art festival in Central Texas. What started in 1978 as an opportunity for Austin merchants to sell their products has become an Austin tradition that attracts more than 300,000 people every year and generates $43 million in economic impact. Fit & Fun: Health Tips for You & Your Children

By: Concentra Urgent Care

Getting fit and staying fit can be a fun process. That's true for individuals, and it's especially true for families. Fitness is an important topic, especially when your daily routine involves a lot of sitting, whether at work, at school, or at home in front of a computer or TV screen. The habits that we learn as children are often the habits we carry into adulthood. As parents, we can help our children build healthy habits and find new, fun ways to motivate ourselves and our children to get active.

BELOW ARE SOME IDEAS FOR GETTING OFF THE COUCH & HAVING SOME FUN WHILE GETTING FIT:

- Take an active vacation: It's tempting every day to think of your vacation as a time to sit and relax. But isn't that what your body does everyday? Instead, you can plan a trip that includes hiking, biking, skiing, and other activities that the whole family can do together.

- Visit a local park: It doesn't have to take a whole day, but you could spend a few hours playing at a park. Take a ball (football or soccer), a Frisbee, or a hacky sack, and play. You can invite some friends to join you, too. And remember: It's not just about the kids moving around – it's your time, too!

NATUREWATCH BEAUTIFUL BUNTING

by Jim and Lynne Weber

One of the most unmistakably colorful birds to return to Texas in the spring is the Painted Bunting (Passerina ciris), whose species name, ciris, thought to mean 'lord', comes from the Greek myth of Scylla, a sea monster who was changed into a bird. This species breeds in two different populations in the US, the eastern one along the coast of the southeastern states and the western one in the south-central states, which includes Central Texas.

The male Painted Bunting is a small, bright finch, with a red chest, blue head, and lime green back. It has a red ring around each eye, and dark gray wings and tail. In comparison, the female's overall greenish-yellow coloring is much less gaudy, but serves her well as she needs to remain hidden when rearing young. Highly territorial, males announce their territory by singing from a conspicuous perch and warn other male intruders by performing a fluttering flight display. They can be quite aggressive toward each other, often engaging in fights that include pecking, grappling, and beating with their wings which can sometimes end in injury or even death.

Preferring natural grasslands, open brush lands, thickets, and scattered woodlands, painted buntings usually form monogamous pairs, with the female constructing a deep, neatly woven cup-shaped nest of plant fibers, lined with hair or fine grass, and placed low in dense shrubbery. She lays 3 to 4 eggs, bluish-white with gray or brown speckles concentrated near the large end, and the young hatchlings emerge 11 to 12 days later, helpless at first and covered in sparse down. During the breeding season of spring and summer, painted buntings eat insects, insect larvae, and spiders, but switch to seeds in the fall and winter. Although painted buntings are mainly ground foragers, they can pick insects from spider webs and will fly up from the ground to grab the seed heads of tall grasses to pull them to the ground to extract the seeds.

Painted Bunting (male)

One of the main differences between the eastern and western populations of painted buntings includes the timing of their fall molt in reference to the migration to their wintering grounds in southern Mexico and Central America. The western population begins their migration first, stopping to molt in staging areas in northern Mexico, and then continuing south. This type of migration-molt pattern is common among waterfowl but not among songbirds. The eastern population, on the other hand, follows the more typical pattern of molting on its breeding grounds first, before beginning its migration.

Sadly, the overall population of painted buntings has showed a slow, steady decline since 1965. Because of this, the conservation status of this beautiful bunting is listed as 'near threatened,' and is thought to be due to several factors, including the rapid urbanization of its preferred habitat, increased nest parasitism by the Brown-headed Cowbird, and ongoing effects of climate change.

Fittingly, when seen in a group, painted buntings are collectively known as a 'mural' or a 'palette', and are a visually striking sight. One can only marvel at the wonderfully vivid feather colors that nature has produced, all on the same bird!

Early Packing List: When to Get Travel Vaccinations

PLANNING AHEAD IS THE KEY TO SAFE, HEALTHY GLOBE-TROTTING

Submitted by Laura Guerrero, M.D., medical director for The Austin Diagnostic Clinic's Travel Clinic

There are just a few days to go before your big trip overseas. You've triple checked your itinerary, memorized important maps, and maybe even practiced speaking a bit of the local language. But unless you have taken the proper vaccination measures well in advance, your health may be at risk.

One of the most overlooked to-dos on a busy pre-travel itinerary checklist is the need to get vaccines and other medical preparations taken care of weeks, sometimes even months, before a trip, says Laura Guerrero, M.D., an internal medicine physician and medical director of the Travel Clinic at The Austin Diagnostic Clinic (ADC).

"Depending on where in the world you are going, you may be exposed to diseases and other pathogens that your body just hasn't had to cope with here in the United States. Often, vaccines are the best preventative measure to protect your health," says Dr. Guerrero. "But what people sometimes forget is that many vaccines have to be taken over an extended period of time before they can effectively prevent an illness."

ROUTINE, RECOMMENDED, & REQUIRED VACCINATIONS

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) divides travel vaccines into three categories: routine, recommended, and required. Dr. Guerrero says the number and type of vaccines you should receive will vary depending on what part of the world you are traveling to.

"Your particular vaccination and health needs can be as different as the Amazon jungle is to the Sahara desert," says Dr. Guerrero. "The only way to know what vaccinations are recommended for you is by consulting with your doctor at least one month before you plan on traveling abroad."

Routine vaccinations are designed to protect you from diseases that rarely occur in the United States, but are still common in many parts of the world. According to the CDC, routine vaccinations should be administered for things such as influenza, tetanus, hepatitis A and B, measles, chickenpox, and zoster (shingles).

Exactly what routine vaccinations travelers should get will also depend mainly on your age and gender. And if you are traveling with children, they will likely require different vaccinations than an adult. Infants may need to have their vaccines administered over a period of several days or weeks, explains Dr. Guerrero. Recommended vaccinations will also depend on where you are traveling. The CDC lists vaccine information about specific destinations around the world on its website, <http://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/destinations/list.htm>. The site includes detailed health information about specific countries.

"We will update your shot record so we know what vaccines you should be receiving," says Dr. Guerrero. "And we will also counsel you about what diseases may be present in your destination, and how you can avoid exposure." As far as required vaccinations go, international health regulations currently only require a vaccination for yellow fever for travelers visiting certain countries in sub-Saharan Africa and tropical South America. Meningococcal vaccination is also required by the government of Saudi Arabia for annual travel during the Hajj—the term for the annual pilgrimage to Mecca, Saudi Arabia, which occurs sometime between November and January.

"Even if you do not get your travel vaccines in time, it's always a good idea to see your doctor before you travel abroad because you can still benefit from medications and other information about how to protect yourself from illness and injury while on vacation in another country," adds Dr. Guerrero.

HEALTHY TIPS WHILE ABROAD

Once you have followed the vaccination schedule exactly, there are many other health considerations to take into account, Dr. Guerrero says. If you are taking prescription medications, for example, make sure you bring enough to last your entire trip and that you keep them stowed in their original containers. It's also a good idea to bring medicine for diarrhea, and to be cautious about drinking from local water supplies or eating things like raw seafood or other uncooked items.

"Part of ensuring a memorable travel experience abroad is making sure you are prepared for any potential health situations," explains Dr. Guerrero. "For example, if you have a preexisting health condition, it's always a good idea to know what your emergency care options are if something were to happen abroad. By taking the proper health planning measures, your trip of a lifetime can be filled with good memories instead of bad ones."

Lake Travis Lions are Sight Savers for Children by Providing Free Vision Screenings

The rain did little to deter local parents from bringing their children to the Lake Travis Lions Club's "Early Childhood Vision Screening" event held at the Rolly Pollies children's gym. Using the PediaVision computerized screening device, 85 children from 6 months up to 5 years of age were able to have their vision tested.

The word is getting out to parents, teachers and caregivers that there is a vital need to check children's vision as early as possible. 1 in 4 children have an undiagnosed vision problem, while 1 in 20 children have a serious vision disorder that if not caught early can lead to permanent vision impairment or blindness. There is a 95% cure rate for many vision disorders if they are caught early, by the age of 5 or 6. Parents often assume they would be able to tell if their child has a vision problem, but most of the time this proves to not be the case.

Since traditional vision screening uses an eye chart, and requires the child's participation, screening for young pre-verbal children is usually almost impossible to do. The PediaVision technology is as quick and simple as taking the child's picture, and needs no input from the child, thus screening can be done starting as early as 6 months of age.

80% of what children learn is acquired visually, so catching any vision issues early is the key to children not being left behind in the classroom. Vision is the #1 health issue for children, and the Lake Travis Lions Club has made it a top priority to screen as many children in our community as possible with free vision screenings to prevent permanent vision impairment and blindness and assuring every child is "vision ready" for life and learning.

Special thanks to John Mann for hosting the event at Rolly Pollies, and to Michelle Calhoun and Sam Johnson both Board Certified Opticians, for conducting the screenings.

Visit www.laketravislions.org or call Jan Johnson (512) 924-4018 to find out more about the Free Early Childhood Vision Screening Program available to our community.
