June 2013 Yard of the Month

The winners for June 2013 Yard of the Month are Laura and Tommy Measeles. They reside at 10611 Merrywing Cove and have lived in River Place for six years. Natives of Austin, they are familiar with the demands of landscaping in central Texas. They designed their own plantings which include numerous Sago Palms, adding a stately quality to their yard. The beds are defined by stone borders, and they have used plants and trees at various heights to create interest. The well groomed turf plus the symmetry and balance of the flower beds distinguished this yard, and the River Place Garden Club is pleased to announce the Measeles as the June winners.

The River Place Garden Club held its annual spring picnic in May, and new officers were chosen. Our new president is Patricia Thomas, and she can be contacted by email at RiverPlacedGarden@gmail.com to learn more about our club. We welcome River Place residents to attend our meetings which will resume on September 13, 2013.

NOW ACCEPTING LEADERSHIP LAKE TRAVIS CLASS 005 APPLICATIONS

Leadership Lake Travis sponsored by the Lake Travis Chamber of Commerce provides a hands-on, interactive experience where leaders and emerging leaders will have the opportunity to enhance their personal and professional skills, gain a deeper understanding of community dynamics, and build a network of colleagues and associates throughout the south Lake Travis area. Throughout the year, participants will travel to various sites, meeting the policy makers and trend setters in our community. They will interact with elected officials, city executives, business leaders, non-profit organization leaders and others who make our community work. Sessions have been designed to provide a solid foundation in the concepts and principles of leadership that will be addressed throughout the program as the participants are confronted with the daily issues that face our community. It is hoped that graduates will use the insights and contacts they develop through this program to enhance performance in their current jobs and endeavors and enrich the community by involvement with local civic, government, business, religious and/or non-profit groups.

"Leadership Lake Travis encompasses the ability to effectively communicate the vision of our area while encouraging and nurturing business owners, leaders, and community members. I "thank" the chamber for finding a way to give us serious leadership lessons in a memorable way that we can apply immediately. The program has solid substance and can transform leaders in the Lake Travis area" says Karen Reich, LTHS Assistant Principal.

"Each month, I was fortunate enough to connect with local business leaders, elected officials and administrators to learn how they interact with the community and confront issues that affect the people they serve and do business with. The knowledge that each of us gained about the community, its history and its' leaders was invaluable" says Phyllis Campos, Community Impact Newspaper.

The commitment to the Leadership program is one day per month from September through May. During the course of the program, participants experience an inside look at their community from various points of view such as local government, law enforcement, retail and economic development, real estate, tourism, education, non-profit and medical services day. The Chamber is now accepting applications for Leadership Lake Travis Class 005. There are only 35 slots available for the class and interested applicants are encouraged to apply right away. The class selection will be made in August and the new group will be introduced at a reception later that month. For more information about Leadership Lake Travis contact the Chamber at info@LakeTravisChamber.com, 512.263.5833 or visit the website at LeadershipLakeTravis.com for an application. The mission of the Lake Travis Chamber of Commerce is to promote sound economic growth, assist members with business development and create awareness related to the unique characteristics of the South Lake Travis Community.

TENNIS TIPS

By USPTA/PTR Master Professional
Fernando Velasco

How To Execute The Backhand Service Return

In previous newsletters, I offered tips on how to hit a forehand groundstroke, a two-handed backhand, one-handed backhand, forehand volley, the two handed backhand volley, the serve, the forehand half-volley, the one-handed backhand volley, the overhead “smash” and the forehand service return.

In this issue, I will offer you instructions on how to execute the second most important shot in the game of tennis: The Service Return, since it is the response to the first most important shot of the game: The Serve. In the illustrations, Julie Comey, player at the Grey Rock Tennis Club, shows the proper technique to execute this stroke. Photos by Charlie Palafox.

Step 1: The Ready Position: When Julie is getting ready to return the serve, her eyes are focused on the tennis ball held by the opponent. Knees are relaxed and the hands are holding the racket with a relaxed grip.

Step 2: The Split Step: When the opponent tosses the ball into the air, Julie will take a hop with both feet off the ground, trying to time the split step with the contact of the ball on the opponent’s racket.

Step 3: The Back Swing: Once Julie realizes that the ball has been directed to her forehand, she will turn her upper body and will take the racket back. Notice that the left hand is up in front to allow her to keep her center of gravity in the center. She has loaded her weight on her left foot and will be ready to step forward to meet the ball.

Step 4: The Point of Contact: Julie now is ready to step into the ball. She has kept her eye on the ball and her center of gravity now is shifted to the point of contact. Notice the right knee being slightly bent and the right foot is pointing to the ball meeting the racket.

Step 5: The Follow Through: Once Julie has finished her stroke, the momentum of the racket continues to move almost to a point behind her neck. Her left hand is next to her body and her left elbow is pointing toward her target. Her body is now ready to take the “split step” with both feet in order to prepare for the opponent’s returned shot.

Quality Of Meals Should Not Change During Summer

Students shouldn't close the door on healthy eating habits during the summer, says a Baylor College of Medicine pediatrician.

"Certainly it is just as important to eat healthy over the summer as it is any other time of the year," said Dr. Teresia O'Connor, assistant professor of pediatrics – nutrition at BCM.

She offers the following tips for health summer eating:

- Incorporate fruits and vegetables in all meals.
- A healthy summer lunch should include a fruit, a vegetable, some form of protein and whole grains.
- Don't skip breakfast.
- Eat three meals a day with one to two snacks.
- Stay hydrated - water is the best and healthiest way to stay hydrated.
- Be aware of how much sugar is in beverages. While it's okay to drink a small amount of these beverages, primary drinks should be water and low-fat or skim milk.

Encourage children and teens to help prepare their own meals so they become responsible for their own healthy eating.

PROTECT EYES THIS SUMMER

Take precautionary measures to protect your eyes during the summer to prevent long-term damage to eyesight, said a Baylor College of Medicine ophthalmologist.

"Ultraviolet light, or UV exposure, has been linked to the development of macular degeneration, cataracts and other vision-loss problems," said Dr. Elizabeth Baze, assistant professor of ophthalmology at BCM.

Baze offered tips you can practice to help protect your eyes from sun damage this summer.

- The more the sunglasses wrap around and shield your eyes and the skin around the eyes, the more protection you have.
- Sunglasses need to provide 99 to 100 percent UV protection.
- Sunblock is a must, including the skin around the eyes.
- A broad-brimmed hat can add extra protection.

If you have an existing eye condition like macular degeneration or cataracts, protecting your eyes from the sun should be a top priority during the summer, she said.
