The time to put your home on the market and sell may be right now. For years, Eagle Spring's residents have trusted me in assisting them with selling their homes. My ranking as the #1 Individual Listing Agent in Eagle Springs; in addition to being listed as one of the Top five agents in Area 1 – Northeast Houston for the past several years; confirms my ability to assist you with a proven marketing plan providing full turn-key service to get your home sold.

Buyers need to know prices are already starting to move up as inventory of available homes are down. There are numerous companies relocating to the area that continues to put demand on available homes as well, with some opting to lease until the home that fits their needs comes on the market. That home may be yours. Let me help you evaluate your options if buying or selling is in your future.

The market is hot as displayed by the Sold and Sale Pending's that have occurred in 2014. "Days on Market" is shrinking and I have been getting multiple offers on many properties as well as selling homes in as few as 1 day. I know this neighborhood and I know many of you. Thanks to Eagle Springs for your continued trust in me. I have personally sold over 500 homes totaling over $100 million in sales and I Can Sell Yours Too!

As we head into the summer months, now is a great time to get your A/C system checked out. Quality Comfort Air, 832-663-5373 is a great resource to contact. I am asked many times for Vendors that I use for repairs, maintenance, or additions to the homes I represent or that I use personally. The following are a few Vendors that I consistently use and get the job done. Contact me if you are in need of any Vendor for your home. I will be happy to get you with the Professional that fits your needs.

Daisy Troop 118007 Raises Over $700 for Montgomery County Animal Shelter

Daisy Troop 118007 participated in the recent neighborhood garage sale as a community service fundraiser in support of Montgomery County Animal Shelter. The girls and their families purged toy rooms and closets for gently loved items to fill their sale tables. They even received donations of goods from several community members to put towards their cause!

With perfect weather for a garage sale, they were blessed with steady traffic all morning long at the central sale site at Eagle Springs Elementary. In addition to having items for sale, the troop also came up with the idea to make cash donation jars and sell bottled water. Thank you to everyone who came out to shop or donated to their fund! A very special thank you goes out to the two anonymous angels who stopped by the tables on sale morning and gave the girls items from their own tables to sell for the cause! Their grand total was $755.65 and they are looking forward to delivering the money to the shelter soon.

Montgomery County Animal Shelter is located at 8535 State Highway 242 in Conroe. Dog and cat adoptions are available every day of the week!

5 Ways to Make it Fun this Summer

As the heat index quickly moves up it's all too easy to let the Texas humidity get you down. Here are a few ideas to keep the family cool and inspired this summer.

Take a "stay-cation"

A new job, limited spending money, a large family, and many other factors can make it difficult to skip town. Who says you have to leave town to have a vacation? Load up the kids backpacks with water and treats and pretend you're a tourist in Houston.

Visit the Museum

Museums will not only get you out of the heat but they offer wonderful fun learning opportunities for you and the kids. Check out the Houston Museum of Natural Science, The Museum of Fine Arts, the Children's Museum of Houston, and more.

Host a Potluck BBQ

Summer is a great time to gather your loved ones and meet your neighbors. Relieve some of the stress of preparing a meal for everyone by making it a Potluck gathering. Enjoy the limited time we have to relax poolside with family and friends and don't forget the Blue Bell ice-cream!

Beach Time!

Go to the beach. Galveston is right out our back door. Stop at your local store before heading out to fill the coolers with food and water. Even if you're not a raving fan of saltwater there's something soothing about the ocean. Look at the sun's reflection on the ripples. Water has a soothing effect on the mind and body.

Dinner Under the Stars

We have a number of great local restaurants that have rooftop bar and patios. Make it a date and enjoy the night with your loved one. There's something about the night air and the right person that makes summer nights magical.

Bring the World to your Child By Hosting a Foreign Exchange Student

If you've read the newspaper lately, you know that the world can be a scary place: wars, economic crisis, revolutions, climate change, border disputes, refugees, and protests. So, how do we teach our children about the world, and the variety of people in it, when most of the examples we read about in the press are so negative?

One life changing way to broaden your child's world view is to volunteer to host a HYPERLINK "<http://www.ayusa.org>" high school foreign exchange student. Foreign exchange programs have been around for almost 100 years, and their mission has always been the same – to educate people about different cultures through person-to-person exchange. What better message to pass on to your children?

There are quite a few misconceptions about foreign exchange programs – especially around who can host. The biggest misconception is that you must have high school aged children when you host a high school exchange student. Nothing could be further from the truth.

"We welcome host families of all shapes and sizes – families with young children, families with no children, empty nesters whose children have left home, single parents and non-traditional families," says Heather Wells, Senior Regional Director for HYPERLINK "<http://www.ayusa.org>" Ayusa, a non-profit promoting global learning and leadership through foreign exchange and study abroad opportunities for high school students. "The key requirements for a host family are to provide a safe and nurturing home environment, genuinely love children, and have a desire to learn more about a different culture."

Families with young children find that hosting an exchange student provides their children with an especially unique educational experience in the form of an international big brother or sister. Without even realizing it, children learn about different types of people and different cultural traditions.

"My daughter Kelsie feels as if Isabelle, our exchange student from Germany, is an older sister to her," said Melissa Hughes, an Ayusa host mom from Ashville, North Carolina. "They have confided in each other, have had movie nights together, and have gone to the mall together - much like natural sisters would do. Kelsie will never forget Isabelle and they have already planned future get-togethers when they are older."

Volunteer host families provide foreign exchange students a nurturing environment, three meals a day and a bedroom (either private or shared with a host sibling of the same gender). Each host family and student is supported by a professionally trained community representative who works with the family and student for the entire program. All interested host families must pass a criminal background check and a home visit by an exchange organization.

"In Tunisia, we always hear about Americans and American life style, in movies, media, songs, everything, and I know it is different, and I wanted to figure out this difference myself," said HYPERLINK "http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=h8_px-f7mhY" Asma, a bubbly high school student from Tunisia who spent a school year living with the O'Donnell family in Anchorage, Alaska.

Foreign exchange students come from all over the world. Ayusa matches host families with students from more than 60 different countries including Argentina, China, Ecuador, Egypt, France, Germany, Japan, Lebanon, Norway, Pakistan, Sweden, Thailand, Tunisia and Turkey. All high school foreign exchange students are fully insured, bring their own spending money, and are proficient in English – and all high school exchange programs are regulated by the U.S. Department of State.

Interested host families are required to fill out an application, pass a background check and interview with a local exchange program representative in their homes. Once accepted to a program, host families can view profiles of students to find the right match for their family.

"Hosting an exchange student is a life-changing experience – for the student, the host family, and the host community," says Heather Wells. "There is no better way to teach your children about the world around them than through welcoming an international high school student into your home."

Ayusa is currently accepting applications for families to host an exchange student for the 2014-2015 school year. For more information about hosting a high school foreign exchange student, please contact Ayusa at 1.888.552.9872 or by visiting the website at:

TENNIS TIPS

The Modern Game: The Top Spin Backhand

In previous newsletters, I offered tips on how to execute the basic strokes for players who are just beginning to play tennis or who want to resume playing.

I am now offering suggestions on how to play the “modern” game mostly geared towards players who are happy with hitting the ball over the net and controlling the point with consistency. These players may be already playing for leagues or tournaments and are looking for more “weapons” on the court.

In this issue, I will offer instructions on how to execute the Top Spin Backhand. This shot is used when a player is presently hitting the ball long and out. The ball will be aimed high over the net and hit with power. The ball will have a “top spin” so that when the ball hits the court, it will take a big hop, forcing the opponent to fall back close to the fence, or to hit the ball on the rise.

In the illustrations, Tyler Duncum, one of the top players of the Grey Rock Tennis Academy, shows the proper technique to execute this stroke. Tyler is coached by the Director of the Tennis Academy, Darin Pleasant. This shot can also be executed from the service line as an “approach shot” to the net.

Step 1: The Back Swing: When Tyler is pulled wide to her backhand, she makes a quick turn of her upper body and takes her racket back. The head of the racket is now at waist height, her shoulders are turned, the left hand holding the racket, and her right hand changing to the “continental grip”. She has loaded her left hip to help her drive her weight forward. Her left grip is relaxed and her wrist is “laid back” to allow maximum point of contact.

Step 2: The Point of Contact: The success of a top spin shot is keeping the ball on the strings going from low to high in a 30 degree angle and accelerating the racket head around the outside of the ball. Tyler started the swing high and “looped” it to allow the head of the racket to drop down. She will be brushing around the outside of the ball as she makes contact with it. Her right shoulder is almost opening and her weight has now been shifted toward the front.

Step 3: The Follow Through: In order to get maximum control and power, Tyler is keeping her left arm almost straight as she extends through the shot. She has “snapped” her left wrist and her right hand helps with the stability and power. She has now allows her left side to transfer forward towards the net.

Step 4: The Finish: Tyler’s upper body acceleration is creating a high finish over her right shoulder. Her legs are already in position to recover back towards the middle of the court.

Step 5: The Ready Position: Once Tyler returns the ball to her opponent, she goes back home (towards the center of the court), to be ready for the next shot. Her knees are slightly flexed, she is in a good athletic stance and her eyes are focused on the oncoming ball.
