PRINCIPALS OF THE YEAR

Alvin ISD officials have announced the Principals of the Year for 2014. Aeniqua Flowers of Laura Ingalls Wilder Elementary was selected as the Elementary Principal of the Year; while Lisa Burns of Harby Junior High was selected as the Secondary Principal of the Year. Aeniqua Flowers first joined Alvin ISD as an assistant principal at Manvel High School in 2008, and was selected as the principal of Wilder Elementary in the fall of 2012. She also served as an elementary teacher, a science specialist and an associate principal in two other districts, prior to joining the Alvin ISD family. Lisa Burns first started her career as a part of the Alvin ISD team in 1988 as a science teacher at Alvin Junior High. She would eventually become an assistant principal at Harby Junior High, and then in 2012 she was designated as the principal of the campus.

"Aeniqua and Lisa are both outstanding leaders who have a passion for children and public education. We are extremely proud of the work that they do daily, and the impact that it is having on the lives of our students," said Dr. Fred Brent, Alvin ISD superintendent of schools. The 2014 Principals of the Year were selected by other leaders in the District. They will be formally recognized at the District's annual Employee Recognition Ceremony on May 29. Flowers and Burns will also represent Alvin ISD at the Region IV Principal of the Year banquet later this spring. A FOCUS ON SUNBURN

Protect Your Skin From Our Powerful Sun

By: Concentra Urgent Care

Sunburn is caused from over-exposure to the harmful ultraviolet rays of the sun. While the symptoms (such as red skin that is painful to the touch) are usually temporary, the skin damage is often permanent and can cause serious long-term health effects, including skin cancer, pigmentation and premature aging. In addition to the skin, eyes can get burned from sun exposure; sunburned eyes turn red, dry, and painful, and can feel gritty.

Sunburn results when the amount of exposure to the sun or other ultraviolet light source exceeds the ability of the body's protective pigment, melanin, to protect the skin. Sunburn in a very light-skinned person may occur in less than 15 minutes of midday sun exposure, while a dark skinned person may tolerate the same exposure for hours.

Sunlight contains an invisible form of radiation called ultraviolet (UV) rays. UV A and possibly UV B can harm skin, connective tissue and increase risk for developing skin cancer. Certain drugs such as some blood pressure medication, antibiotics and nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs increase sensitivity to sunlight and the risk of getting sunburn.

SYMPTOMS

The first signs of a sunburn may not appear for a few hours. The full effect to your skin may not appear for 24 hours or longer. Possible symptoms include:

- Red, tender skin that is warm to touch. (1st degree burn)
- Blisters that develop hours to days later. (2nd degree burn)
- Severe reactions (sometimes called "sun poisoning"), including fever, chills, nausea, or rash.
- Skin peeling on sunburned areas several days after the sunburn.

FIRST AID

- Try taking a cool bath or shower. Or place wet, cold wash cloths on the burn for 10 to 15 minutes, several times a day. You can mix baking soda in the water to help relieve the pain. Small children may become easily chilled, so keep the water tepid.
- Apply a soothing lotion to the skin.
- Aloe gel is a common household remedy for sunburns. Aloe contains active compounds that help stop pain and inflammation of the skin.
- Over-the-counter steroid cream can also be applied several times a day.
- Over-the-counter pain medication, such as nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs, or NSAIDs, including aspirin, may be helpful, and are excellent for reducing burn inflammation whereas Tylenol only reduces pain, not the burn itself.
