President's Corner

By Diana Miller

Hope you are all having an enjoyable summer. It was great to see some of our neighbors at the June Jester social hosted by the Jester HOA. The event was well attended with about fifty attendees, many recently new to the neighborhood. Everyone there had a great time and expressed interest in having another event sometime in the fall. Jester is a great place to live!

4TH OF JULY PARADE & ACTIVITIES

by Social Chairman, Teresa Gouldie

A big splash of red, white, and blue lit up the streets of Jester as our neighborhood children and parents marched in our annual 4th of July parade. Harry Loflin, our beloved neighborhood veteran, & his beautiful wife Nancy along with Willie Maltese led the parade in a decorated golf cart. Jester resident Pate Brendle, also a veteran, drove the cart and thoroughly enjoyed seeing the excited faces of all our Jester children and grandchildren. The kiddos pulled wagons, rode bikes, and proudly showed off their "patriotic" pets as they paraded down Jester Blvd, around Basil, and back to the club. Awaiting them were a multitude of activities including a prize walk, tattoos, coloring sheets, and a ball toss (complete with little red, white, and blue footballs!) Children were treated to a variety of patriotic items at the prize walk including bracelets, fans, gliders, erasers and necklaces. We had a wonderful turnout and a great time was had by all!

Special thanks go to all the people who helped make this neighborhood event a success: Eva Wisser, Darlene Rutland, Glen Brown, Lauretta Reeves, Kenneth and Matt Jeffries, Glen and Cookie Bandel, Gayland and Roger Williams, Pate Brandle, Peggy Maxwell, Brian Lee and Mitchell Tarantolo. Thanks also to those helpers we recruited from the crowd! As always we also appreciate Terri Milan and Jester Club for providing the location for this event, and Billy Gouldie for putting up the signs at the entrances and donating the use of the golf cart.

Please give me a call at 512-751-8000 or email at tgouldie@gmail.com if you'd like to volunteer for our Halloween parade on Saturday, October 25th. It's a great way to contribute to the neighborhood and we'd love your help!

WELCOME COMMITTEE NEWS

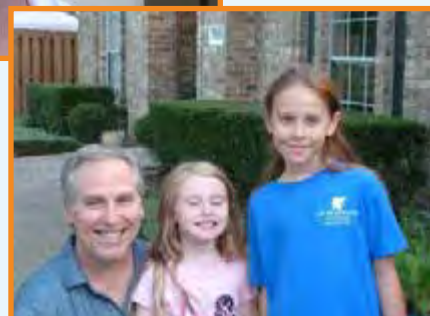

The Welcome Committee has made a few more deliveries to new families moving in this summer. There weren't too many sales earlier in the summer, but now we have plenty of new families on our list for deliveries!

Deliveries were made to 3 new homeowners since the last Warbler article. On the 7900 block of Jester Blvd, we met Kevin and his wife Jennifer along with Bella and Addie. Kevin's a native Austinite. Don and his wife Moonyean moved from the Crestview area to the 7400 block of Fern Cove. Don was also born and raised in Austin. Two UT Ex's, David and Jennifer moved to the 7000 block of Anaqua Drive. They moved from the Westlake area with their sons Luke and David Allen.

The Welcome Committee enjoyed meeting these new residents. If you live near them, please stop by and introduce yourself! Also, please contact JoAnn Welles at (512) 346-0349 or joann-welles@sbcglobal.net if you've moved to Jester lately and we haven't welcomed you officially. We may have tried to deliver a bag to you but not found you home.

NATUREWATCH

by Jim and Lynne Weber

Hairstreaks are mainly small butterflies, most with threadlike tails on their hindwings. They typically fly rapidly, fitting from side to side or in circles, before sticking a landing. Most perch with their wings closed, and reveal their upper surface only in flight. Males and females can look quite similar, but the males will often be the more vibrantly colored of the two.

In central Texas we have three common hairstreak butterflies. The largest, as indicated by its name, is the Great Purple Hairstreak (Atlides halesus). Dusky purplish-black below and brilliant blue above with red spots near the base of the wings and a bright orange abdomen, this butterfly flies spring through fall. It tends to stay well above the ground, and males will sit on trees on hill summits or flat plains to await females, mostly in the afternoon. Its larval foodplant, or plant upon which the female lays her eggs, is mistletoe species in the genus Phoradendron.

Another commonly encountered hairstreak is the Gray Hairstreak (Strymon melinus). It has only one tail on the hindwing and an upperside that is blue-gray with a large reddish-orange spot near the tail. The male's abdomen is orange and the female's is gray. In the spring and fall its underside is dark gray, and paler gray in the summer, but it always has a dashed white line, parallel and inset from the wing's edge, bordered with orange. It flies from February to November and is the most widespread hairstreak in North America. Males perch all afternoon and into evening on small trees and shrubs to seek receptive females, who lay eggs one at a time on a wide variety of plants including peas, mallows, beans, clovers, and cotton.

One of our most beautiful hairstreaks is the Juniper Hairstreak (Callophrys gryneus), belonging to a group called Evergreen Hairstreaks, which are widespread and variable. The upperside of the male is dark brown with an olive-colored sheen, and the female is blackish brown. Their underside is a vibrant green with two white spots near the base of the forewing and an irregular white line edged inwardly with a reddish-brown. Males perch on host trees, those in the genus Juniperus like our native Ashe Juniper, awaiting females. They perch with their wings closed and blend into the junipers so well that they may not be noticed until moving branches cause them to fly.

When it comes to survival, hairstreaks have developed an interesting adaptation, much of which has to do with their tails. Often having distinct markings or spots near these tails, together they form what is known as a 'false head' with the tails looking like antennae. The illusion is carried further when the hairstreak performs a back-and-forth 'sawing' motion with the hindwings when resting. This motion can distract would be predators such as spiders, causing them to attack the wrong end of the butterfly, leaving the vital structures intact.

Missing tails and part of the lower portion of the hindwings does not hinder flight, and the butterfly lives to carry on another day. So it really is true that two heads are better than one!

JESTER UNCORKED

Save the Date!

by Social Chairman, Teresa Gouldie

Join us for a night of wine-tasting and fun on Saturday, September 20th beginning at 6:30 pm at the home of Colette and Edgar Fitzgerald at 7500 Anaqua Drive. Our hosts will purchase the wine in advance and each person is asked to contribute $15 to cover the cost. Please bring your favorite appetizer to share with the group!

If you plan to attend, please contact Colette at Colette@realtyaustin.com or call her at 512-294-1781 so she and Edgar know how much wine to buy.

Thanks goes out to Glen and Melody Brown who hosted a recent Jester Uncorked event that was well-attended and loads of fun! Glen has graciously agreed to be the contact person for this group, so please let him know if you would like to attend an event or even host one. It's a great way to meet your neighbors, share some "wine" experiences, and have a fun-filled night close to home!
