Summerwood Splash Pad

Summerwood residents are enjoying the beautiful, expanded area at our splash pad located adjacent to the parking lot at Club Summerwood on Hunters Lake Way. For your convenience an outdoor restroom is available for use with an access card or fob key.

Thank you to CMC Construction for hosting the grand opening of this newly improved facility on July 11th with free snow cones and popcorn for all who attended!

At the request of residents this area is now fenced and requires an entry device to enter the gate and use the splash pad and the playground. You can obtain your access card or fob at the CIA office at central clubhouse on Wednesdays from 9:00 to noon or on Saturdays from noon to 3:00.

BEAUTIFICATION COMMITTEE

September 2015

Green or Not to Green?

As most of you residences have noticed Summerwood doesn't have the same luster as it once had. Our beautiful and colorful landscape has been a highlight of the community. Over the last couple of years the heat and drought has taken a tremendous toll on our landscaping, the recent rains have helped some, but the damage was already done.

Many may be wondering "What is Summerwood going to do about our landscaping?"

The Summerwood Beautification Committee has been working with Spencer on a plan to not only have beautiful entrances along the major thoroughfares but bring the luster back into the residential areas where our residents are truly going to appreciate the beauty of the landscaping. You may see some unadorned spots for a short time but we are phasing in attractive landscaping and not just "filling in gaps".

Since this is a community enhancement we will be reaching out to our youth groups who would like to participate in a community activity. If you know of a Scout group looking for opportunities please contact CIA Services and ask to be put in contact with the SBC. Giving back and involving the community is essential to success of Summerwood.

Stay tuned for some of the upcoming projects

Watch Out –Don't let the Chinch Bugs Get you!!!

By Randy Lemmon

It's August. It's hot. And it's dry. So, here come the chinch bugs - pests that can literally suck the life out of a St. Augustine lawn. Most chinch bug-free lawns in your neighborhood are the ones with quality irrigation systems. A well-watered and well-fertilized lawn is the best at keeping chinch bugs at bay. The most susceptible are those whose owners go on vacation and neglect to ensure that it's watered while they're away. It only takes a week or two to lose an entire lawn to chinch bugs. And dead is dead, whether it's from a lack of water or chinch bugs. Dead grass will need to be replaced, because no amount of insecticide, fungicide or fertilizer will bring dead back to life.

So fast action is key. First, though, it's important to know the difference between drought damage and chinch bug damage. The first sign of a chinch bug infestation is yellow spots. People often misdiagnose yellowing as an iron deficiency or fungal disease. So, they spray with a fungicide or apply iron — in some cases, even fertilizer. But if the problem is chinch bugs, all that fungicide and iron is a waste. And applying too much nitrogen fertilizer on a drought-stressed yard is like pouring gasoline on a fire. So, if you start seeing yellow, irregular patches in the lawn, first find out if the cause is chinch bugs. Get down on your hands and knees to do a little investigation at the edge of the patches... where the yellow and green grass meet. Push the grass aside, and look down near the root systems. If you see tiny flea-sized bugs with white wing pods on their sides, you have chinch bugs. Juvenile chinch bugs have a mostly orange body with a white band through the middle.

For an easy search, use a metal coffee can with both ends removed: Push one end of the can an inch or two into the soil at the edge of a patch, and fill the embedded can with water. If you have chinch bugs, they will float to the top. Now, I have very specific instructions for chinch bug control. And rule #1 is DO NOT USE A GRANULAR

INSECTICIDE! You need to apply a liquid insecticide - a synthetic pyrethroid like bifenthrin, permethrin, cypermethrin or deltamethrin - at least three times over a 21-day period. I suggest once every five to seven days, up to four applications at most. Reason: You have to treat enough to break the egg cycle. Sadly, many chinch bug victims use a granular insecticide, or they only make one application of liquid insecticide. Neither one of those methods will break the egg cycle. You can use granular insecticides as a preventive, especially when it's this hot and dry. But, it's not the answer to a full-blown infestation.

And what if you can detect no bugs? Well, it could be drought-related. Or it could be a nutrient problem. Or a fungal disease. Or it could be an infestation by a completely different critter. Yikes!

By the way, the easiest way to tell if damaged grass has any life left in it, is to grab a handful. If dead hay or straw-like blades come out but the runners have some green, you have a fighting chance. If everything ... roots, runners and dirt ... comes up with the tug, it's probably dead.

Photo of the Month

Sonia Murillo of Slate Mountain Lane submitted this beautiful sunset picture taken at the gazebo on Lake Meredith on July 31. The photographer was a family friend from Mexico who was enjoying the amazing scenery on a Summerwood summer day.

Have you recently taken a great photo of your family enjoying the outdoors in Summerwood? Maybe you have taken a photo of one of our amenities or perhaps a particular landscaped area that you enjoy? We'd love to publish a favorite Summerwood photo!

Please email it to: summerwood.newsletter@gmail.com and include your name and address along with a short paragraph about why the photo is your favorite. The winner will have his/her photo in next month's newsletter!
