Young Triathletes in Eagle Springs

(Fitness, Community, and Accomplishment)

Swimsuit On: Check. Goggles: Check. Towel: Check. Bike: Check. Helmet: Check. Shoes: Check. Enthusiasm: Check. It was the checklist that 249 children went through at 6:30 am on September 19, 2015 as they prepared to leave home to race in the 5th Annual Eagle Springs Kids Triathlon. The early hour was an unusual time for the 5 to 15 year old kids to be so excited to be awake and ready for exercise – and yet smiles were all around.

When they arrived at the Athletic Club pool, they found their transition area, placed all of their items in just the right spot, and then received their timing chip. From their transition area, they could see all the other bikes – some in the pool parking lot and some in the Primrose School parking lot. That's a lot of bikes – some big and some small, some multispeed and some without gears, some blue and some pink – but all with a race number, and a nervous and yet eager child standing nearby.

It's time! It's 8 am and it's time to get moving. They left behind that bike and filed one by one into the pool area, passing by Mom and Dad for one more high-five, and talking to their new friends right in front of and behind them in the line. First, the National Anthem from the Atascocita High School Jr ROTC played. Lots of cheers.... and then.... let's go!

That nervous first jump in the water, or that practiced start from years of swim team - each kid entered the water and began to swim. The water is constantly splashing, but you can hardly hear it over the cheers of encouragement from parents, family, and friends. They hear the volunteers tell them to do the next lap – or to get out of the pool because they're done. The swim is over quickly with a bit of relief from many of the children that they can go to the bikes.

Racing out of the pool area, they find their transition spot once more. Dry quickly, struggle to put socks on somewhat still wet feet, lace up those shoes and grab the helmet. And they're off! Riding to the high school seems long but there are people all along the way – cheering and encouraging. They ride past and smile at these strangers. Along the way, some notice the sign on the way “You Can Do It!” Of course, they pedal harder. Some are in the race with the person right next to them, some trying to catch the kid in front. All of them riding fast to finish this part of the race.

Back! They are done with 2 out of 3 portions of the race. Shed the helmet, wipe the sweat from their face, and leave aside the bike. They are ready for the run. And they can see their parents again, “Go, Go, Go”.....The change from a bike to a run gives them a boost of energy and off they go. The run is hot and legs feel a bit wobbly after having biked and swam. But they near that finish line and hear all the screaming and rejoicing. The last 50 yards – full sprint as hard as they can.

And then, they hear their name.....They crossed the finish line and they are a triathlete! A volunteer places their finisher's medal around their neck. That medal and ribbon feel amazing as they rejoice with the others. Each of these finishers get a lime green water bottle – their new staple in the lunch box or gym bag. Some listen to the music while others bounce in a bounce house or hit the inflatable baseball or throw the football. Everyone enjoys the cake and popcorn while awaiting the results wondering “Did I win?”

These 249 children now join the four years of Eagle Springs Kids Tri participants who can proudly call themselves triathletes. A total of 770 local children have completed the Eagle Springs Kids Triathlon during that five year period – including two who have competed for all five years.

The self-esteem, determination, and physical fitness impacts of this accomplishment will forever be instilled in those kids. And as parents and volunteers cheered, the sense of community and pride to live in this area was plentiful.

In the words of some of the parents and volunteers, about the event:

- For [my daughter] to tell me over and over that she couldn't do it and then FINISH, that is some serious self-esteem that a 5 year old does not often get to earn for herself.
- It was very inspiring to see so many young kids competing and having a blast! And they ALL FINISHED which is a great life lesson!
- Words cannot express the love and pride in my heart for all of these kids.
- So proud of my sweet daughter for completing her 2nd kids triathlon. She is so strong and brave and never gives up.
- My daughter rocked her triathlon today! We are so proud of her determination to do this.

If you see any of these triathletes throughout our neighborhood or Atascocita, congratulate them with us for an amazing accomplishment – for athleticism and determination. For each one of them can proudly say “I am a TRIATHLETE.”

The event was sponsored by Platinum Sponsor: Texas Emergency Care Centers at 1960 and West Lake Houston Parkway;

Gold Sponsors: Team Salas Realty, Primrose School of Eagle Springs, Best Trash, Brown & Gay Engineers, Municipal Operations & Consulting, Rebekah Snipp Realty, Gustafson Dental, and CBW Pools.

Bronze Sponsors: Crossfit Torch, n8 Massage and Kakes by KariAnn.

Over 200 volunteers helped with planning, preparation, event day organization, directing kids and cheering on the child athletes throughout the competition. These volunteers included Atascocita High School Jr ROTC, Summer Creek High School Volleyball team, Summer Creek High School National Honors Society, the Men's

REAL ESTATE MINUTE

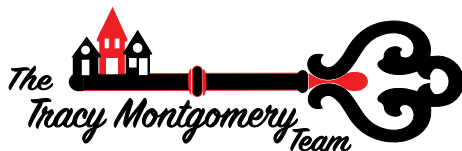

The one question I get every November is “Is now a good time to sell?” Depends is a pretty good answer though not specific enough for most. How about this November? That I can answer with more specificity:

- 1) Interest rates still remain incredibly low. As long as interest rates remain this low, families will be looking to buy.
- 2) Though housing demand is not as high as it was 3 months ago, it still remains strong. Housing is about supply and demand. If you have a home that's in demand, a good Realtor will find buyers in search.
- 3) Families prefer to move over the summer. Their 2nd best option is over the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Why? The two to three week break that kids get allows families time to quickly transition to a new home. Families that need to move and did not make a move over the summer will be looking to do so now.

If you're in the market to buy or sell give the Tracy Montgomery Team a call. If you're on the fence, give us a call as well. An experienced, licensed Realtor, will help you consider all the pro's and con's of making the move today. There's no pressure. We know how big the decision is and will ensure you have all the facts you need to make this all important decision.

That same day, September 19, 2015, Eagle Springs resident Katy Stibrich also achieved amazing success as a triathlete – at the Elite World Championship in Chicago. The race included a 1500 meter swim, 40 km bike ride, and 10 km run. Katy placed 19th overall in her age group and 10th among all Americans completing the entire race in just over 2 hours.

NNO Butterfly Event

Eagle Springs' first Butterfly Event was a huge success! On October 3rd, about 80 children and their families explored the butterfly park in Eagle Springs. The landscape committee had on hand caterpillars, chrysalis and butterflies for the children to observe. The group listened to a presentation about the journey of the Monarch butterfly from Canada to Mexico. In addition, they learned about the life cycle of the butterfly and planted milkweed plant seeds, the host plant for the caterpillars.

A special thank you goes out to the Landscape Committee members and their families, the Cub Scouts, and ESE teachers for their help in making this event a success.
