Bunny Love Abounds at Lakeway's StoryWalk

The Lakeway Parks and Recreation Department invites families to take a walk and read a book together under the open sky during its annual StoryWalk event from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Feb. 1-16.

Children may enjoy the Valentine's Day story while taking a short stroll around the trail behind Lakeway City Hall, 1102 Lohmans Crossing.

Pages of popular children's book "Guess How Much I Love You" by Sam McBratney will be posted along the walkway so young readers may experience the importance of reading, spending time with friends and connecting with nature in a free and fun way. Visitors are encouraged to share the joy of reading with a friend and to record their responses at the end of the route.

The StoryWalk Project was created in 2007 by Anne Ferguson and developed in collaboration with the Vermont Bicycle & Pedestrian Coalition and the Kellogg Hubbard Library.

Parking is available at the Lakeway Activity Center, 105 Cross Creek. The trail may be accessed by the stairway at the bottom of the parking lot. For those with strollers, parking is available at Lakeway City Hall near the back of the building. Access the trail by following the sidewalk around the building to the right.

For information, call the Parks and Recreation Department at 512-314-7530.

City of Lakeway-Dar Moneyhon of Lakeway and his granddaughter Emerson Ledbetter share a StoryWalk experience in 2014.

Rookies, pros grace the floor at Lakeway's Big Band Bash

As it celebrates its fourth year, the Lakeway Big Band Bash continues to bring newcomers and experienced dancers together.

The next Big Band Bash is set from 8-10 p.m. Feb. 8 at Lakeway Activity Center, 105 Cross Creek. Lakeway Arts Committee hosts the dances in the center's ballroom.

Kent Dugan's 17-piece Republic of Texas Big Band, plus Lakeway singers David Cummings and Lisa Clark, keep the joint jumping with music, mostly from the Sinatra era.

Although many good dancers cut a rug at the Big Band Bash, the floor is large enough to accommodate those who are just getting into ballroom dancing.

"If you've been wishing that there would be a nice place to go out at night with great live music in Lakeway, this is the place to be," Lakeway Arts Committee chairman Fred Newton said.

Admission is free, but donations to the band are encouraged. Big Band Bashes are on the second Monday of every month. Bring your own refreshments, as none are provided.

"Polish your shoes, pack some champagne and come out to have a great evening of dancing or listening," Newton said.

For information, call 512-261-1010.

Lakeway Author to Speak Feb. 13

On February 13, Evans will discuss her work and sign books at the Lake Travis Community Library from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. Print copies of the novel will be on hand for purchase. "Or, readers can bring their own copies," Evans says. Refreshments will be provided.

In the heartwarming story, a family torn apart by a preventable tragedy comes together to forgive. The main characters are a curmudgeon history professor, his psychic wife, and their workaholic tech guru daughter. Also key to the humorous scenes are three precocious grandchildren.

Kirkus Reviews describes the novel as, "A warm portrait of a family coming together to forgive..." and also remarks, "The colorful dialogue keeps the story moving... There's a pleasing amount of healthy talk about sex... Forgiveness comes in moments sentimental but tender..."

The story is set in Atlanta and also at Lake Blackshear in Georgia. Evans says the novel has had several iterations. "I first wrote it as a novella, then later as a screenplay. I pictured Joanne Woodward and Paul Newman as my stars. Ms. Woodward was born in Georgia, so I thought the setting would interest her. I even mailed her the screenplay, but her office called and said she wasn't interested in making a film, as if I had any idea how to make one," Evans says with a laugh.

Retired from a career in advertising and marketing, Evans holds bachelor's and master's degrees in English/Creative Writing from the University of Missouri. Her second novel OUT AND IN will be published this spring.

TIME ENOUGH FOR THE HENCHMAN

Author Tom Raleigh and Illustrator Janet Sopp-Sims - Tuesday, February 2nd at 6pm - Local author Tom Raleigh joined forces with notable illustrator Janet Sopp-Sims to design the cover art for his latest novel Time Enough for the Henchmen. Come meet the author and illustrator and hear the story behind their unique collaboration at the Lake Travis Community Library.

A trusted member of Chicago's infamous "North-Side Gang" in the late 1920's, and trapped in his own dead-ended existence, John Cunin would not be able to change course, but for an extraordinary encounter with a mysterious, crooked-armed man on the morning of his untimely death, and a group of young boys who would unwittingly be forced to intercede on his behalf. As fate would have it, they would provide him a rather unique opportunity to escape his past. That opportunity would present itself in a series of otherworldly events over the course of a few days...a few days in the lives of four young boys that would somehow bridge together nearly four lost decades for him.

NEW YEAR'S EVE GALA RAISES OVER $165,000

Submitted by Gretchen Nearburg

The 2015 New Year's Eve Gala benefiting nonprofit Help Our Wounded (HOW) was an amazing success. The Gala was held at the Sonesta Bee Cave Hotel where over 260 people joined in the festivities and brought in 2016.

The How Advisory Board, chaired by Dottie Stevenson, organized the Gala and VIP party. The Vip party on December 30 was held at the home of Jack and Gwen Holcroft. Almost 100 people attended the party and began the countdown to New Year's Eve.

Prior to New Year's Eve over $100,000 had been donated through the generosity of our Lakeway residents, family and friends. Earlier in the year, Joann Anderson approached the Advisory Board and offered to organize a cruise through the Panama Canal and donate her commission to HOW. Over 90 people are going on the cruise. The check presented to HOW was $48,505. Holland America is donating money to HOW which will bring the total donation to $53,000. At the Gala through a live auction, additional donations, the total raised this year for HOW was $165,000.

This money will go toward assisting wounded soldiers and their families guiding them to resources for support and provide financial assistance when needed. As Rosie Babin, founder of Help Our Wounded, has said: "After the soldier leaves Walter Reed, after all the VIP's have paid their visits, these soldiers and families are faced with enormous challenges." HOW provides that help, and Rosie continues to be a valuable and necessary resource for those in need. For more information about HOW, go to: HelpOurWounded.org.

The LCRA Water Management Plan that we all thought was approved and finalized, well it's not. There have been two organizations that have filed for rehearing, one is "Garwood Irrigation Company" and the other is the "National Wildlife Federation". We are waiting to hear how TCEQ is going to handle these two filings for rehearing. Although it is my understanding that the new Water Management Plan went into effect on January 1, 2016. The Highland Lakes Firm Water Customer Cooperative is waiting and will respond accordingly when TCEQ makes its decision.

The lakes have recovered considerably with Lake Travis at 94% full capacity and Lake Buchanan at 81% full capacity for a total combined storage of 89% full capacity. It is my understanding that if Lake Travis reaches 100% that LCRA will release any amount above that level. For instance they consider 680 ft MSL as full, so if the lake continues to fill beyond the 681 MSL mark then LCRA will release everything above that to keep the lake at full and not above full. Also they will most likely sign contracts with the downstream agricultural interests for their crops, which they haven't done in four years. This summer you will see Lake Travis drop in elevation due to the releases downstream, which is all detailed in the new Water Management Plan that was approved by TCEQ.

We are in the process of completing our new Clear-Well construction project. It should be on-line starting in February. The contractor has been laying the line down the median of the Boulevard, which they should have that finished by the end of the week. The new clear-well will give us about 1-million gallons of storage and allow us to pump directly to the World of Tennis elevated storage tank or what we call E-3. This will be more efficient for us and also give us enough storage to keep up with demand on the system. The contractor has also installed a new above ground raw water line. Increasing the size from 12-inch to a 16-inch raw water line. This will allow us to pump higher gallons per minute thru the plant on peak days.

This is a reminder that we are in the middle of winter averaging for your wastewater. We use the lower of the two different periods of winter averaging. The time period is from November thru January and January thru March. Remember you should not be using outdoor irrigation during this time. If you do then it will be part of your winter averaging. You should turn off your irrigation system during this time.

Every winter, many homeowners face the expense and inconvenience of frozen water pipes. But you can cross that off your list of winter worries by taking a few simple precautions:

Disconnect and drain outdoor hoses. Detaching a hose allows water to drain from the faucet. Otherwise, a single, hard overnight freeze can burst either the faucet or the pipe it's connected to.

Insulate pipes or faucets in unheated areas. If you have pipelines in the attic, an unheated garage or cold crawl space under the house, wrap the water pipes before temperatures plummet. Hardware or building supply stores will have good pipe wrapping materials available.

Seal off access doors, air vents and cracks. Winter winds whistling through overlooked openings can quickly freeze exposed water pipes.

Find the master shutoff. It is where the water line comes out of the meter box at the street. If a pipe bursts anywhere in the house – kitchen, bath, basement or crawl space – this valve turns it off. So find it NOW. Be sure everyone in the family knows where it is and what it does.

In severe cold weather, you may want to allow a faucet to drip a small continuous stream.

The last billing cycle we saw some higher than normal water bills due to irrigation. Everyone who has an irrigation system should monitor it more closely. What we have found is that most people assume that they have set their irrigation controller correctly, which in most cases they have not set it correctly. This year we are going to be on a two-day per week irrigation schedule. You should have your system checked by a professional and make sure there are no leaks and that you are not overwatering.

Even though conditions are better, we all need to remember to conserve water. Thank you for your cooperation and support. We will keep you informed on our website and by our banners on Lohmans Crossing and Lakeway Boulevard. For additional information please visit our website at www.lakewaymud.org.

The Lord bless you and keep you.

Run for a Purpose holds 5th Annual event to fight lung cancer!

Texas-based organization devoted to raising awareness and funds for lung cancer research is yet again, organizing a charity run in Lakeway on Sunday, March 6th.

Run for a Purpose, developed by Rexanna's Foundation for Fighting Lung Cancer and partnered with Lakeway's own Be Healthy Lake Travis non-profit organization, are working together to make this 5K and KidsK event the biggest and best yet. Be Healthy Lake Travis founder, Don Canada Jr., found this event to be of particular importance to this community as Rexanna Hawkins was such an inspiration to many students of the LTISD system. His organization, also being 100% volunteer run with emphasis on total wellness, made the partnership very easy. Run for a Purpose is the only run in the metropolis whose proceeds stay in Texas, either going to scholarships or research at M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston.

Being a volunteer run event, over 90% of funds raised from the race will go to lung cancer research at M.D. Anderson Cancer Center and the Rexanna's Foundation's T.E.A.M. scholarships which benefit high school students who have been personally affected by cancer. Rexanna's Foundation has raised more than $250,000 for lung cancer research since its inception in 2006, a groundbreaking amount for a cancer that has been largely overlooked.

This race is about more than raising money. Raising awareness about the disease is a central goal of both foundations. Although lung cancer kills more people than breast, prostate and colon cancers combined, lung cancer receives scant attention or funding for research, which is why events like the Run for a Purpose are so important.

"Lung Cancer is one of the deadliest of cancers, yet even with these staggering statistics, it is the most under researched and underfunded," said Holly Johnson, volunteer race director and an honorary board member of Rexanna's Foundation. "I know when I contribute financially to an event like this, that my money IS going directly to the cause and that I will be, at least in some small way, a reason that lung cancer will be a thing of the past someday." Everyone benefits when they participate in a Run for a Purpose event. Be it, financially, as a participant, as a volunteer, or as a sponsor, we will win this fight with the support of the Lakeway community.

Former Lake Travis Middle School Athletic Director Rexanna Hawkins, 49, died in 2006 – just two months after her diagnosis, having never been a smoker herself. Rexanna's competitive spirit, hope and warm heart impacted everyone she met. It was no surprise that in the two short months of her cancer fight, that she inspired her doctors and friends to become actionable and carry her torch for her, so that a cure maybe found and thus, Rexanna's Foundation for Fighting Lung Cancer was created. Her doctors, Dr. Daniel Karp and Dr. Edward Kim at M.D. Anderson, now serves on the foundation's board.

Run for a Purpose is held in the Rough Hollow subdivision. It is chip timed utilizing dynamic bib technology. The race includes a KidsK (ages 9 and younger) race, which starts at 8 a.m. and a 5K that begins at 8:30 a.m. on Sunday, March 6th at the intersection of Highlands Blvd. and Trophy Drive, near the Lakeway Swim Center. Sign up today for early bird discounts and to guarantee your event t-shirt. Discounts are also given to team formations of 4 or more. Pre and post-race snacks will be provided. Raffle prizes will be given out throughout the event and medals to top finishers in each age bracket. All KidsK participants will get a medal upon competition. Trophies will be given out to top male and female overall winners. Cost is $25 (price increases after 2/18/16) for the chip-timed 5K and $10 for the KidsK. For more information and to register, visit www.runforapurpose.com.

RETIRE BETTER READY OR NOT?

WITH JOSH STIVERS

WOW! The beginning of this year was a pretty rocky start for the stock market. Going back to August, the market has experienced increased volatility not seen since the second half of 2011. The question is, were you ready?

For years, institutional investors and hedge funds have benefitted from drastic fluctuations in the market by being opportunistic during times like these. Even one of Warren Buffet's classic rules is "Be fearful when others are greedy, and be greedy when others are fearful."

Do these big money investors have information we don't? I would say NO! Due to their experience and understanding of market fluctuations, these seasoned investors learned how to manage their emotions and focus on the fundamentals underlying the volatility.

Simply put, volatility is a measure of the roller coaster ride that individual stock and public markets go on when there is nervousness and unrest based on uncertain economic conditions.

During the financial crisis of 2008, we saw many investors flee their equity positions at substantial losses and move their assets to cash. The problem is that many stayed in cash for several years and completely missed out on the 6 year bull market that followed the crisis. What if they had placed at least a portion of this cash in opportunistic investments that rebounded when the market began to level out?

The key to benefitting from market volatility is preparation.
During times of relative calm in markets, it is important to begin to insulate your portfolio from the impending volatility that is sure to happen. It is possible to achieve this portfolio insulation through the use of non-correlated assets and cash.

It is also important to have a stash of cash on hand when volatility hits. The recent sell offs in public equity markets have created an opportunity to purchase quality stocks at drastically discounted prices. If you do not prepare for the eventual sale on quality stocks, then you might find yourself without enough purchasing power to make good on these name brand stock discounts.

With a proper allocation to non-correlated investments and a healthy portion of cash, many of our clients have been in a position to benefit from the recent market volatility. With more uncertainty on the road ahead, it's not too late to begin insulating your own personal investment portfolio from future fluctuations.

Ask yourself, were you comfortable with your experience on your investments over the last couple of months. If not, it may be time to stress test your current portfolio and begin to hedge your bets.

Around Lakeway

Lakeway Citywide Indoor Garage Sale season begins March 5

Bargain hunters, be on the lookout for deals galore as the Lakeway Citywide Indoor Garage Sale season kicks off March 5 at Lakeway Activity Center, 105 Cross Creek.

The city will host the popular garage sale from 8 a.m.-noon with additional dates in 2016 scheduled for April 23, May 14, July 30 and Sept. 10.

Shoppers may scout for antiques, decorative items, golfing equipment, clothing, jewelry, household items, vintage glass and dishes, iron baskets, chalk-painted furniture, vintage oil paintings, furniture, vintage boots, luggage, kitchen items, gardening supplies and bedding.

Other items that could be on sale are wooden stamp collections, scrapbooking paper, linens, shoes, cookbooks, Christmas items, baby items, barstools, crafts and more. The selection varies for each sale.

Admission is free, but the Activity Center is collecting nonperishable food items to support local food banks. Collection boxes will be in the lobby of the building.

"This unique community event is fun for collectors, families and bargain hunters," Lakeway Activity Center manager Dallas Gorman said. "You'll find some of the most unusual items from this upscale community and unbelievable prices." For information, call 512-261-1010.

Lakeway veterans preparing for next Honor Flight

Lakeway veterans are encouraging those who served during the Korean War era to sign up for the next Honor Flight to view veterans memorials in Washington, D.C.

The flight, which is scheduled for April 8-9, 2016, will concentrate on Korean War veterans, but World War II veterans who did not fly on the 2013 Honor Flight also are eligible for this trip.

The mayors of Lakeway, Bee Cave and The Hills will support the April flight with formal proclamations declaring April 4-11, 2016 as Lake Travis Honor Flight Appreciation Week.

Seventy-five Korean War veterans' names are listed on the city's Spirit of Freedom veterans monument, including some who also served in World War II and participated in the 2013 event.

"It is time we recognize Lakeway veterans who fought and served in the Korean War," Lakeway Mayor Joe Bain said. "The Korean War is often called the 'Forgotten War,' but the sacrifices of these brave men and women are as essential as those made in any other war before or since to preserve our country's freedom."

To date, only 20 veterans have registered to make the trip in 2016 with another 11 reported as possible participants. The flight can accept 37 veterans for the trip, due to the requirement for 'guardians' and support staff.

The itinerary is:

April 2 – Meet and greet for veterans and guardians at 10 a.m. Lakeway Activity Center, 105 Cross Creek;

April 8 – Nonstop flight departs Austin-Bergstrom International Airport in the morning for Washington, D.C. Hotel rooms and meals provided;

April 9 – Morning tour of Korean War, Vietnam War, World War II, Iwo Jima (Marine), Navy, Air Force, Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and Americans Disabled for Life memorials in the Washington, D.C. area. Meals provided;

April 9 – Nonstop afternoon flight departs Washington, D.C. for ABIA;

April 9 – Evening arrival at ABIA; and,

April 10 – Invitation-only evening reception and entertainment for veterans and participants at Lakeway Activity Center.

For information on going as a veteran or a guardian, contact Lake Travis Standing Military Committee members Jerry Schmeil at jerryschmeil@gmail.com or Steve Quakenbush at scubaq@gmail.com.

Lakeway Heritage Center has free DVD recordings of the 2013 Honor Flight that are available to the participants or their family members. The DVDs may be picked up from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the Heritage Center, 963 Lohmans Crossing.
