In an effort to create more events for our teens, we are excited to bring Teen Pool Night to the Athletic Pool on June 11th, starting at 8 pm. Pizza, drinks, a DJ and swimming fun are all in store for kids ages 13 through 17.

This event is only for teen residents with a valid pool card who are between the ages of 13 and 17. Participants will also need an access card to open the gate of the pool, just like any other time.

Fourth of July Fun!

Come out and celebrate! Our Fourth of July parade route will begin at the intersection of Lafayette Hollow and Valley Lodge Parkway at 9 am. Prizes will be awarded to the best decorated in the following categories: bike/scooter, wagon, power wheel, stroller and costume.

If you choose not to march in the parade, come out and cheer on your neighbors!

Second Food Truck Friday in the Books!

Our second Food Truck Friday was a smash, with special thanks to Magically Ever After Travel for sponsoring The Good Dinosaur movie event. The weather was perfect as 5 food trucks, plus Tipico Desserts, Froeschl's Ice Cream, and Ian Krause's Boy Scout drink stand, served residents until they ran out! People packed the soccer field as night drew near, and The Good Dinosaur entertained residents both young and old.

Shout out to DJ MG for spinning tunes before the movie, and HAT Services for the extra lavatories! Your services were greatly appreciated!

The next Food Truck Friday is June 3rd, with H-E-B sponsoring this fabulous event, along with a Craft Fair and Home Business Showcase on the soccer field. Look for a list of food offerings and vendors at InsideEagleSprings.com.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

Buyers come out of the woodwork during the spring and early summer. In fact, sales peak in the summer because many families want to get settled before the school year starts. This helps to explain why about 60% of those who move do so in the summer. Have you outgrown your home or do you find that you don't need the upstairs game room or pool anymore? If so, call the Tracy Montgomery Team. We can list your home competitively and help you find a home that meets your current needs.

In honor of Father's Day, our June drawing will be a $100 Topgolf gift card for one lucky dad.

Please register for this month's drawing by emailing us at TracyMontgomeryTeamRSVP@Gmail.com. Put the word "Topgolf" in the subject line and include your name, address and phone number in the email. It's that simple! Congratulations to the Lanaux family for winning the Mother's Day Spa treatment from our last drawing in May.

We owe our incredible growth and success to YOU - our past and future clients and friends. We appreciate your continued referrals. If you or someone you know is thinking of buying or selling a home, please give us a call! We love bringing dreams to life!

Food Truck Fridays FAQs

What food trucks will be at the next event? What do they serve?

- Food Trucks are listed on InsideEagleSprings.com and their website is linked for you to check out their menus, prices and more!

Do they take cash only?

- Most food trucks take both cash and credit cards.

Why is the wait so long?

- Food trucks make food fresh and to order, right on the spot, so serving delicious fresh food takes a little longer than a fast food spot. Plus, food trucks have little preparation area, forcing them to make much of the food as they go.

Can't we get more food trucks?

- In the food truck industry, the magic number of max food trucks is 6 at these kinds of events. They will not come out to an event this far out of their zone- most are located inside the Loop in Houston – if they have too much competition between each other. Roaming Hunger, the group that represents many of the food trucks in Houston, recommends 1 truck per 500-1,000 people. Let that sink in for a second!

The food trucks were late and were supposed to serve at 5 pm. What gives?

- We book the trucks well in advance, and they make every effort to get here by 4 pm and be ready to serve at 5 pm. Sometimes conditions completely out of our control –like an accident on the freeway, massive unexplained traffic, or lights being completely out at intersections – delay the trucks. Once they get here, they do need to prep a little to be ready for the crowds, as they can't do this on the road. We ask residents to pack their patience, some snacks, and enjoy chatting with neighbors while you wait. Outside food is welcome for people who don't care to wait.

I know a great food truck! How can we get them here?

- Email Activities@InsideEagleSprings.com and we'll see what we can do!

How to Talk To Your Children When Disaster Strikes

In my role as executive director at Shield-Bearer Counseling Centers, I am frequently asked by parents or teachers how to help children when they or their community experiences a disaster.

Every child reacts differently to loss. Younger children handle the news differently than older children. A child's personality and values influence their reaction. Parents and teachers may notice children displaying a greater amount of energy following a disaster. Energy released by their body's natural response when safety is threatened will find its way into more irritability, fidgeting and inability to focus on tasks at hand.

But there are some things individuals who are raising or working with children can do.

Model calmness.

Children will look to parents and other adults to cue their interpretation and reaction to the disaster. When children see the adults around them remaining calm, they will be more easily reassured of their own safety.

Help them talk.

Parents frequently have difficulty discussing such horrible tragedies with their children. As with other times of loss, they do not know exactly what to say. Being available to listen to what children want to say will likely be more helpful than putting together a lecture. Encourage children to express how they feel when they are ready to discuss it.

Honestly answer questions.

When children do not know the answers, they will ask questions. Parents who patiently attempt to answer tough questions will see their children move through the pain of the tragic event. If you don't know the answers, tell them so. Reassuring them of their present safety will help them learn to overcome fears that they might be struggling with.

Limit access to disaster news.

Monitoring your children's access to news reports of the disaster will help reduce the possibility of nightmares. When a child watches news programs about a disaster, parents should be present to discuss the contents of reports.

Keep them busy.

One of the most important things that a parent can do to help their children work through a disaster is to maintain the routine and structure of their children's lives. Keep appointments. Carry on with chores and responsibilities. Meet obligations.

Help them help.

Every person touched by a disaster is motivated to help in some way. The negative emotions of fear, sorrow and anger can be channeled into acts of kindness. Having a child gather items for disaster victims, write a thank-you note to the first responders or draw a picture for someone intimately involved will help them feel they are making a difference. These actions can help them regain a sense of control over their situation.

Remember that each child is an individual. What helps one child might not help another. If there are significant changes in behavior, mood, or sleeping patterns, it is important to make a visit to a physician or professional counselor to assess what professional help might be available.

Above all else, let them know they are loved.

"IT PAYS TO TRUST A CHAMPION!"

Bring the World into Your Home

Ayusa International, a non-profit organization that has promoted global learning and leadership through high school student cultural exchanges for more than 35 years, is launching its annual search for families in Houston and the surrounding area interested in hosting international students for the 2016-2017 school year.

Ayusa host families who volunteer to open their home to exchange students contribute to the global community as public diplomats for greater international understanding. Each host family and student creates a lasting relationship that spans the cultural differences between their two nations.

The Bray Family from Houston has been hosting two students this year, Mahau from France and Genzo from Japan. Both students have been attending Mayde Creek High School this year. The Brays have six children of their own but feel that hosting exchange students is "probably one of the best decisions our family has ever made," according to host mom April Bray. "[The students] quickly become a part of your family and it's always a great feeling to see their eyes light up when they experience something for the first time or hear the excitement in their voices when they tell you about a new friend they made at school. Your children also get to gain another brother or sister and it's always fun to see them trying to learn your exchange student's language or customs. For us, there is no greater feeling than watching our exchange students succeed and grow and being able to share our culture and learn more about theirs."

The students have also been having a wonderful experience with the Bray family. Genzo shares, "My host family is so nice to me and I feel like this family is the home I can go back to. They make me feel like I'm loved by them. Of course you can share your culture and learn the language but more importantly, you can experience the other family that you love." His exchange "sister" Mahau says, "It's crazy how much you can love people you didn't know 10 months before. Every day they make my exchange year super great. I consider them like a member of my family. They are the reason why I enjoyed every single day of my new life."

Ayusa works with diverse families who are interested in hosting an international student of high school age. Families without children, empty nesters, military families, retirees, and single people are all welcome. Ayusa families come from all over the country and reside in rural, suburban and urban communities.

"Houston is a popular destination for Ayusa exchange students in the U.S.," says Heather Wells, Ayusa Regional Manager for the Southwest. "Host families love to share the diversity and history of Houston. It's such a fun area to live in, with activities and things for students to experience, from music and sports to outdoor activities and delicious Tex-Mex!" She continues, "If you have ever wanted to learn about a new culture while sharing life in America, I encourage you to give us a call or check out our website to learn more about how you can create an international friendship that lasts a lifetime!"

Host families provide the exchange student with three meals a day and a bedroom (private or shared). A professionally trained Ayusa representative supports each host family, student, and local school throughout the program year. Ayusa's exchange students are 15-18 years old and come from more than 60 countries around the world. Students are fully insured, bring their own spending money, and are proficient in English.

How to Host an International Student

Interested families can learn more about the program and available exchange students and request additional information by visiting <http://www.ayusa.org> or calling 1-888-552-9872.

The process to apply is simple. Families complete the online application, which includes questions about themselves and local high school, references, and a background check. The local Ayusa Community Representative conducts an in-home interview. They can also help each family with any questions they may have about the application or process.

After families are fully approved, they can select the Ayusa student they would like to host.

ADVANCING HEALTH

Finding Time

by Tara Chatterson

I've recently come to the conclusion that the world today has gone mad. It's as simple as that.

Don't believe me? Let's look at one simple fact--in what other place do the majority of the population spend trying to fit 35 hours into a 24 hour day? And continue to do so almost 7 days a week?

Tell me if this sounds familiar: work an 8-9 hour day, come home to do chores like cook dinner, do laundry, feed the dog, etc. add kids to the mix--forget it!

Our success-driven society tells us that we have to push to do more, do it bigger, and do it better than anyone else. Finding time to live any sort of life has suddenly become over-rated and unimaginable as a one-way trip to Neverland.

Over-scheduling, double-booking, extreme intake of caffeine & constant exhaustion have become our closest companions.

Well, I've decided I've had enough. If Neverland is the place where peace exists, then I want to live there.

Is it possible? I believe it is. It starts with claiming the time for yourself to relax and unwind. I've found my Neverland here at Five Horses, LLC. Working with, and learning from, the horses here has brought me a peace of mind I never believed possible. I know it seems hard at first, but you owe it to yourself to find time to rebuild and recharge.

Indulge yourself by finding time for yourself. There are some amazing new events coming up this month at Five Horses. Take a look--I promise you won't regret it.
