Bridgeland Leadership Class

Submitted By Kay Burkhalter, Program Coordinator for the Bridgeland Leadership Class 2017

Ever wonder WHY we pay two MUD taxes? Ever wonder which agency determines our LAKE LEVELS? What's the difference between the Lakeland Village HOA and Bridgeland Council? Learn how to FOLLOW THE MONEY, and understand the answer to each of these questions, in the Bridgeland Leadership Program! The Bridgeland Leadership Class of 2014 & 2015 were a great success, and applications are now being accepted for the Class of 2017. Lakeland Village Residents will, in the near future, take over the running of our HOA, and the supervision of a TWO MILLION DOLLAR+ budget. Bridgeland needs leaders who are willing to step forward to learn more about the operations of our fine community as well as the variety of public and private agencies that quietly impact our lives. All we ask is that you commit to five (5) 1.5 hour classes, each one held once a month on the fourth Thursday of the month @ 6:45pm at the Activity Center beginning in January 2017, and that you agree to do a 20 hour Bridgeland service project in 2017. An application form is below or you can fill it out online by logging into your <http://www.bridgelandlife.com/> account and selecting Contact Us, E-Forms, Leadership Application.

Be sure to get your application in early. Please return to Rachel Johnson, Activity Director at the Lakeland Office or give to Kay Burkhalter via an e-mail attachment at kayburkhalter@sbcglobal.net. You will be notified by January 10, 2017 if you have been accepted.

Sixth Annual Fashion with Passion Raises Almost $60,000

Class of 2017 Fundraises for the Jordan Merecka Caring Heart Fund and the Travis Chaffin Memorial Scholarship Fund

On Thursday, November 3rd, Celebrating Soul Cypress, soon to be rebranded to "Deep Cypress Neighbors," hosted its sixth annual Fashion with Passion Event at the Enchanted Cypress Ballroom. Students of Class of 2017 from Cy Fair High School, Cy Woods High School and Cypress Christian School, who served as the models began their fundraising journey eight months prior to this event by participating in the Cypress Challenge, #17DaysofKindness. The challenge required each model to commit to 1 act of kindness per day in order to raise awareness for the programs of Celebrating Soul Cypress, such as changing a flat tire or preparing snack bags for the homeless.

This year, the event raised almost $60,000, which benefits individuals and families who have experienced financial setbacks due to traumatic experiences. Additionally, the event's proceeds go toward the Travis Chaffin Memorial Scholarship Fund for youth who demonstrate a strong character and heart for philanthropy.

Over 300 community members participate in this event each year. At the event, the Jordan Merecka Caring Heart Award is presented recognizing the individuals who have experienced a traumatic situation and turned it into something positive, providing inspiration to their fellow community members. The recipients of this year's Jordan Merecka Caring Heart Award were Clyde and Melinda Gordon of Abby's Gift.

In addition, some local Cypress boutiques were in attendance at the event. Participants included: Anything Bling in Vintage, Muzzies, Al's Formalwear, Damsels & Blokes Salon, Chelsea B Cosmetics, and Dillard's Men's Department.

Next year's Fashion with Passion event will be held in November 2017.

FINDING RESOLUTION

I am a goal-oriented, list-making individual. It's how I'm wired, and it has helped me be productive and successful in many ways. However, being goal-oriented doesn't always work so well when building relationships. What if the other individual doesn't have the same goals as you do?

This has been the case many times in my life, and my tendency was to bulldoze over them with my lack of concern for their goals. My goals were better, more thought out, more important, etc. What does that do to this relationship that I valued to work on so much? It completely undermines the whole thing! So, how did I learn to stop this destructive pattern in my relationships? Horses!

How many of you have tried to get an animal that weighs over 1000 pounds to meet your personal goals? It's not easy. Yes, it is possible to force them to do many things, but can you catch them easily the next day? Do they really want to have a relationship with you after you have met said goals? Mine didn't.

Mine ran away and fought many things I tried to "teach". What did it take for me to listen to the horse's thought on our relationship? An unplanned dismount is the nicest way I've heard it phrased. When a horse goes to bucking, it is pretty clear it doesn't respect your leadership. A wise man once asked me what happened before that buck. I answered, "Lots of little things that I ignored, actually."

I'm too old to ignore those little signals anymore. It hurts to hit the ground with that kind of force! As I've learned to listen to horses better, it has also helped me to listen to people better. Have you ever asked a friend what they want to receive out of the relationship you have? Do they have needs that aren't being met? If they aren't treated respectfully and valued, they may not stick around.

Setting goals is still helpful, especially in helping me think of the steps to help myself achieve them. I just want to make sure I am not ruining relationships along the way. So, my goal setting looks different now as I make sure it includes the friends I value the most.

These are a few of my relational goal ideas for the next year. They are all oriented toward preventing those blow ups, like my horse gave me, with one of my friends or husband.

Be a better friend by:

1. When feeling annoyed or offended- stopping to question why and if it is really that important?
2. Plan monthly dates to build relationships.
3. Check in with my friends to find out their needs, before they ask!
4. Be more available by being less BUSY- say no to more things, so I can say yes to important ones.
5. LISTEN better- friends are giving you early signs of needs, but we are distracted with our own.

**If you find these things to be true in your own life, and would like to make a change, please visit our website at www.fivehorses.com to learn more about our new Goal-Setting Workshop this January****

Rosehill Christian School Cheer Team

The RCS Eagle Pride Dance team had a very strong showing at the TAPPS State Dance Championships, which were held December 8-9 at the Arlington Convention Center. RCS Dance Director, Rochelle Lauve, said she was so proud of the attitude and effort demonstrated by the students on the team, many of whom were freshmen, and looks forward to the future as this team continues to grow, improve, and expand. The RCS Dance team glorified God in all that they did, bonded as teammates, and even met some new friends. As a small group performing a lyrical and pom routine, the Rosehill Eagle Pride Dance Team placed third overall, receiving state bronze medals in a very competitive field. The Dance team members are: Katie Hebert (Senior, Captain), Brooke Knighten (Freshman, Co-Captain), Yaminel Arzola (Senior), Mackensy Doyle (Freshman), and Madison Stoyak (Freshman). There were also individual all-state honors:

THE ODD COUPLE OPENS AT STAGEWORKS THEATRE

Enjoy One Title with “a Couple” of Versions

Stageworks Theatre presents its 4th production of the season, The Odd Couple by Neil Simon, running Jan. 27 – Feb. 19, 2017. Join us for the story of two suddenly single pals—diametrically opposites—that strain their friendship by becoming roommates and unconsciously repeating the same mistakes they made in the marriages they just left. See one title with a couple of versions!

Director Chris Gibson presents this classic story of two mismatched friends with a clever twist: alternating casts (one starring female roommates and one featuring male roommates). The male version is the basis for the launch of the 1968 movie, The Odd Couple, which became a franchise name on television in the late 60s and 70s. The female version is staged 20 years later in 1985, and follows the same story line as the male version.

“While Neil Simon’s Odd Couple is a staple of American theatre, his counterpart female version (which takes place twenty years later, in 1985) is an underrated gem and this is a rare opportunity to see them both produced in repertory,” said Gibson.

The genius in this staging is comparing the characters each night and how similar they are to each other, but separated by 20 years and, oh yes, opposite sexes.

Gibson continues, “We have assembled TWO incredibly funny, powerhouse casts and rehearsals have been hilarious. Personally, I’m having a blast exploring the differences in these two plays, not only between the sexes, but also of these two radically different time periods. Of course, what both plays have in common is Simon’s unmatched wit. He is truly one of this country’s greatest theatrical comedians, and his work stands the tests of time.”

This talented cast consists of Stageworks favorites; Nora Hahn (Olive), Rachel Landon (Florence), Megan Nix (Sylvie), Laura Renfroe (Mickey), Kiara Steelhammer (Vera/Cecily), Mark Mendelsohn (Oscar), Patrick Barton (Felix), Sam Martinez (Speed), and Justin Finch (Roy/Jesus). And often spotted behind the light board, Ron Putterman is joining us onstage as Murray. We are excited to welcome Chaney Moore (Renee/Gwen) and Mauel Abascal (Vinnie/Manolo) to the Garza Mainstage. The gender bending production team is led by Chris Gibson (Director), Michael Montgomery (Artistic Director), David Dean (Sound Design), Ron Putterman (Lighting Design), Barbara Terry (Costume Design) and Kate Selby (Stage Manager).
