Have you Experienced High Water on Your Street?

The Addick's and Barker Reservoirs rose to the highest pool levels ever recorded last year during the Tax Day Floods of April 17-18, 2016. Slow moving thunderstorms produced between 16 and 20 inches of rainfall within a 12-hour period resulting in the flooding of several watersheds across north and western Harris County. Many homes located in older neighborhoods surrounding Lakes on Eldridge such as Bear Creek Village and Hearthstone flooded.

The LOE MUD Board takes pride knowing that our infrastructure and storm drain system is proactively monitored and checked for blockages and drainage issues. The LOE lakes rose over their banks during the 2016 Tax Day Flood however the water levels within our streets never posed a flood danger to any homes in the neighborhood. In efforts to uphold our commitment to LOE residents, and take proactive measures regarding future major rain events, the MUD Board has created a platform where residents can report high-water situations they experience. If you experience high water in your area, please fill out the Storm Water Control Form and send to loemud341@gmail.com. The form can be downloaded from the Lakes on Eldridge website under the "Forms" menu selection

TRASH & YARD CLIPPINGS ARE OUT TOO EARLY

Per our community rules, trash and all related items, which includes bagged yard waste, are to be put at the street curb NO EARLIER THAN THE NIGHT BEFORE TRASH PICK UP DAYS. We are seeing large numbers of homes with bagged yard clippings and cut and bundled limbs putting it at their street curb on their lawn maintenance day. This IS NOT PERMITTED and it causes a negative curb appeal and nuisance to others when these items sit on the curbs for days and over the weekends.

If you use a lawn service, PLEASE ADVISE THEM to take your lawn debris and place it up by your garage door and NOT at the curb unless they are doing your lawn the same day as trash pick-up. ALSO note trash containers, except for trash service days, are not to be stored where visible from the street.

TIME TO REPLACE THOSE DEAD OR DYING LANDSCAPE PLANTS

Spring is here and we have been observing way too many yards that are in need of immediate attention to the landscape beds in the front of the homes here in LOE. Landscaping is required per the ACC rules and it should now be obvious if your questionable bushes and plants are coming back from the winter weather. Please walk around your front yard and take inventory of what needs done in your beds and around your trees if you have plants planted in the tree wells. It's time to replace those dead plants and to plant new ones where dead ones have already been removed. If you do a really thorough weeding of the beds and then put down at least two inches of mulch in the beds, this will give a more finished look to the beds, help retain moisture and cut down on weeds. Get those gardening gloves on or have your yard service take care of this – it adds such a nice, attractive element to the general curb appeal of the community and it is in the rules. Thanks to all those residents who do such a great job in taking care of their yards and beds.

NOT ON OUR COMMON AREAS PLEASE

Residents are NOT permitted to place personal items on our LOE common areas that are adjacent to your home. We have had to remove hammocks, stepping stones, lights and now we are dealing with vines from back yards growing across fences into common area trees. If you back up to a brick wall, that wall is LOE property – please keep your vines and greenery on the inside of these walls and away from any common area trees that are growing in our areas adjacent to your yard. Tree trimming on common areas is an ongoing project – our current focus is removing the dead wood from pine trees along Turkey Creek walking paths. If we find items or vines, etc. on the common areas, they will be removed – putting things out in common areas is not only not permitted, it causes delays in maintenance of the common greenbelt areas. Thanks for your cooperation.

Eagle Scout Project in LOE

Ethan Work, Lakes On Eldridge resident and Eagle Scout candidate from Boy Scout Troop 61, will be executing his Eagle Scout project in the community. He and his troop will be replacing worn-out stickers on various storm drains in the neighborhood. The Storm Water Inlet Marking (SWIM) program aims to place stickers on storm drains that notify residents not to throw trash or other harmful substances in the drains, which lead directly to the Gulf of Mexico.

For more information on how to assist in the project if you're interested, please contact Ethan by email at Ethanwork234@gmail.com. Work will most likely take place on weekends at the end of April or the beginning of May.

PETS OF LOE

By: Matteo, Rohan and Rhea

We wanted to get to know more about the pets who live in LOE so we thought it would be such a fun idea to start writing an article for the newsletter every month about a different pet that lives here. This month we will feature Matteo's kitty cat, Valentino. He is a Ragdoll, which are best known for its docile temperament. The Ragdoll breed started in 1960's. Ragdolls follow people around like puppies and are known for "dog-like cats". They are not aggressive towards other animals and love to go limp when carried around. In fact, Matteo's golden retriever, Alex, is best friends with Valentino. They greet each other with kisses and love to play together. Valentino is only 8 months old and thinks he is the king of the house. He loves to play with toilet paper and legos. That's Valentino!

Swans Can Be Dangerous

This time of the year, Mother Nature provides our LOE swans with some common sense. It is mating, nesting, and egg-laying season and they feel the need to protect their territory against predators including humans, dogs, and waterfowl. Most of the swans in our neighborhood are not old enough to mate but some will go through the motions of even building a nest. The pairs of swans that are old enough to produce young (cygnets) are normally gentle and can be hand fed while posing no threat. However, our cobs (males) will become aggressive and territorial in trying to protect his pen (female) and nest. This is usually temporary until mating season is over. If you are walking past a lake and a swan swims to your side and follows you, BEWARE! If you see a swan with his neck back and feathers up such as the one in the accompanying picture, please stay away, do not attempt to feed him, and walk on the other side of the street as he is in his ATTACK position. Please warn your nannies and sitters not to stroll babies around the swans. We must try to remember that the swans are merely protecting their territory and readying the area for their young. We need to be as cautious of them as they are of us. Thank you for your cooperation!

May 22 - Circling the Sun by Paula McLain An Amazon Best Book of July 2015: Sometimes a reader craves a good, old-fashioned yarn. This much anticipated novel from the author of The Paris Wife is exactly that: an engrossing story of love and adventure in colonial Africa, complete with gorgeous landscape, dissolute British ex-pats, and lots of derring-do with horses, motorcars and airplanes. That it is also the best kind of contemporary historical novel – the kind that teaches you something about the real people and events of the time – is a bonus.

June 26 - News of the World by Paulette Jiles. It is 1870 and Captain Jefferson Kyle Kidd travels through northern Texas, giving live readings to paying audiences hungry for news of the world. An elderly widower who has lived through three wars and fought in two of them, the captain enjoys his rootless, solitary existence.

In Wichita Falls, he is offered a $50 gold piece to deliver a young orphan to her relatives in San Antonio. Four years earlier, a band of Kiowa raiders killed Johanna's parents and sister; sparing the little girl, they raised her as one of their own. Recently rescued by the U.S. army, the ten-year-old has once again been torn away from the only home she knows.

A respectable man, Captain Kidd is faced with a terrible choice: abandon the girl to her fate or become—in the eyes of the law—a kidnapper himself. Exquisitely rendered and morally complex, News of the World is a brilliant work of historical fiction that explores the boundaries of family, responsibility, honor, and trust.

July 24 - Small Great Things by Judi Picoult. Ruth Jefferson is a labor and delivery nurse at a Connecticut hospital with more than twenty years' experience. During her shift, Ruth begins a routine checkup on a newborn, only to be told a few minutes later that she's been reassigned to another patient. The parents are white supremacists and don't want Ruth, who is African American, to touch their child. The hospital complies with their request, but the next day, the baby goes into cardiac distress while Ruth is alone in the nursery. Does she obey orders or does she intervene?

With incredible empathy, intelligence, and candor, Jodi Picoult tackles race, privilege, prejudice, justice, and compassion—and doesn't offer easy answers.
