A NEWSLETTER FOR THE RESIDENTS OF SPICEWOOD & BRIARCLIFF

VOLUME 2, ISSUE 9

PICKENS FUNDRAISER

Sunday, September 9, 2018

Enjoy Spicewood barbeque for the benefit of locals Dick and Nancy Pickens on Sunday, September 9, at One Chapel Lake Travis, 22800 Hwy 71 West, from 9 am – 2 pm. Erin and Steve Schugart, members of One Chapel, will be cooking the food for a two-meal event to raise funds to help defray expenses to combat the cancer that Nancy faces.

The food at the event from 9 – 11 am will be breakfast tacos with the usual fillings of eggs, cheese, potatoes, and a selection of smoked meats, combined in a variety of pairings. And from 11 am – 2 pm, smoked brisket, pulled pork, sausage and grilled chicken will be served directly from the smoke pit. Barbeque beans and corn casserole are on the menu as well.

After suffering and overcoming breast cancer several years ago, aberrant cancer cells were found recently in Nancy's blood work. She had to resume treatment at Cancer Treatment Centers of America in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Since Dick is self-employed, the drives to CTCA for care and the treatments themselves will cause undue financial hardship on them. The Bible study group at One Chapel Lake Travis, led by Erin, decided to hold a fundraiser.

"Nancy is an amazing woman who has touched many hearts. She gives a lot to the church and the community of Spicewood. She is always helping others and now we can help her," says Erin Schugart.

A wife of 62 years, Nancy is a piano teacher, women's Bible study leader, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, and has worked with her husband, Dick for 20 years on radio-TV inspections. Dick is in the radio business, beginning at the age of 10 with his own show which featured Nancy, at age 8, as a pianist. A licensed radio engineer since 1964, he graduated from The University of Texas in 1967, and received a Masters of Divinity degree in 1970. He has worked as a radio/TV inspector for the FCC and Texas Association of Broadcasters for the last 40 years, managed a communications company from 1976-1982, and lectured at the UT College of Communications in the 80's.

"We have been blessed by so many prayers, gifts, hugs and food from the large family of One Chapel. When we saw the news about Steve and Erin doing the fundraiser also, Nancy and I just looked at each other and said, 'Really? Wow!'" says Dick Pickens.

To participate, those enjoying the food are encouraged to “give what you are led to give,” possibly calculating what one might pay at a local restaurant for breakfast tacos or a lunch plate, rounded up to benefit the Pickens.

“As a cancer survivor myself I understand the burden something like this can place on a family. We are all blessed to know Nancy and have this opportunity as a community to help them out,” says Steve Schugart.

LTlov Prepares Students for Success!

Having the required school supplies is critical to success for all students, but not all families are able to afford this expense. For the eighth year running, LTlov communicated a call for help on behalf of these families and our community responded with generous donations of the materials necessary to the learning process.

Project Supply Pack, part of LTlov's School Supplies Program, delivered prepackaged campus and grade specific school supplies directly to 275 LTISD students from 175 families, coded Economically Disadvantaged, on their desks at campus Back to School Night events. Following the application deadline for campus-assigned supply packs, LTlov's School Supplies Program committee set to work with the goal of providing ALL financially limited students with the supplies needed including late applications, backpacks, basic supplies for Lake Travis High School students who do not participate in the pre-packaged ordering system, supplies for the Cav Lounge and supplies for teacher's closets at HBMS and LTES. Community donations of requested school supplies, cash and gift cards made this goal attainable and all students who requested assistance received the help they needed.

LTlov is extremely grateful to the Schoen Foundation which provided a $15,000 grant to Project Supply Pack, as well as LTISD, the Lake Travis Crisis Ministries and PODER who promoted awareness of the Project Supply Pack Application and deadline. The list of businesses, organizations and individuals who supported this year's School Supplies Collection drive is extensive. The Pedernales Fire Department hosted 2 special events which resulted in many bags of school supplies and presented LTlov with a $400 cash donation, Coldwell Bankers United Realtors in Lakeway and the Sonesta Hotel each collected a large box of supplies, Austin Ridge Church provided 40 filled high school backpacks, HEB donated 40 backpacks and Tuscany Village provided 12 filled backpacks. Huge thanks go to the Lakeway Veterinary Clinic, Strandz Salon, the Lake Travis Community Library, Kuper Sotheby's, Nitro Swimming, World of Tennis, Elite Wellness, Flipnastics, Champions TX and Hill Country Indoor who hosted collection bins. The consistent generosity of Lake Travis residents resulted in 17 bins full of supplies and just under $5,000 in cash donations. Special thanks go to the many volunteers who sorted, packed and distributed supplies including the Lake Travis Young Men's Service League and the LTHS National Honor Society, the Lake Travis School District for providing a room at the LTHS Annex to receive, sort and distribute supplies, and to all the volunteers who dedicated over 150 hours to this much-needed program. In total, LTlov was honored to provide over 350 students from all LTISD campuses with the supplies required for success in the classroom.

The 20th Annual Komen Race for the Cure Returns to Austin

On Sunday morning, September 30, 2018, the 2018 Komen Austin Race for the Cure will take place in downtown Austin. For the 20th year, local community survivors, fighters, thrivers and supporters come together in the battle against breast cancer.

This important annual event raises significant funds for the for the breast cancer movement, thanks to supporters and survivors around the world who step up and take action by fundraising for the cause.

Komen Austin serves the women and men in the city's five-county area battling breast cancer by removing barriers to care for the uninsured and underinsured. Komen Austin is the only local breast cancer organization attacking the disease on all fronts – education, screening, treatment, follow-up care, survivorship, support, advocacy, and research.

As the largest nonprofit funder of breast cancer research outside of the U.S. government, Komen Austin's goal is to reduce the number of U.S. breast cancer deaths by 50% by 2026. The Race for the Cure is the primary fundraising event for local breast healthcare grants and global research grants.

3 Ways to Bring a Taste of Autumn Into Your Home

By MarLee Berry, TexasHillCountry.com

Autumn is finally here and for those of us living in the heart of Texas, we know what that means. Absolutely nothing, because it is still 90 degrees outside. Although our great state is famous for many things, a predictable seasonal pattern is not exactly one of them. However, for many people, the thought of cooler weather, colorful scarves, and pumpkin spice gives them all the warm and fuzzies. Below are three ways you can make the inside of your home feel totally fall-like even when it still feels like summer on the outside.

1. Bring In the Scents of the Season

The first step toward creating an autumnal haven is incorporating the scents of the season. From potpourri mixes and wax melts to candles and essential oil blends, there are a number of ways to bring cozy fall aromas to your home. The key is to look for hints of cinnamon, vanilla, or nutmeg. A good rule of thumb: let your nose be your guide. If the smell makes you think of grandma's apple pie or a relaxing walk through the woods on a cool, crisp morning, then you have probably found the perfect match.

2. Add a Touch of Color

A key part of fall that many people love is the changing colors of foliage. Reds, yellows, and oranges in various shades all around evoke a sense of anticipation as the promise of cooler weather seems just around the corner. A great way to harness that energy is by bringing the colors of fall indoors. A simple red throw blanket casually draped across a chair or a selection of autumn-themed throw pillows strategically placed can add just a tasteful hint of seasonal decor without going over the top.

3. Decorate With Nature's Bounty

The final step in getting your home ready for fall is to incorporate nature's bounty. A quick walk through your neighborhood might yield a multitude of materials. Leaves in all kinds of shapes, sizes, and colors, used in conjunction with twine or ribbon, can create a simple banner. Acorns, or other nut varieties, placed inside a clear vase or mason jar can become beautiful centerpieces. Of course, pumpkins and gourds are oftentimes found at your local grocer and are wonderful items to utilize in your autumn decor.

Here in Texas, the seasons tend to keep us on our toes as we never know exactly what might be thrown our way. However, regardless of what might be happening outside, you can still make your home feel like a fall paradise on the inside.
