From The Editor's Desk

It seems like we were just ushering in the new year and yet spring is almost here. We've had a relatively mild winter so we can look forward to our Yard of the Month column to resume in April. That's good because I'm sure we've all missed admiring photos of those beautiful yards and applauding the others that have worked so diligently to make their lawns a showplace.

This month a theme kind of presented itself: Services to, by, and for the folks that live in Fairfield. Our cover story leads the way, giving the community a head's up on all the exceptional programs offered to Fairfield Athletic Club members. Coming in a close second are our schools, churches, and community organizations nudging us to join in the fun and possibly lend a hand by volunteering time, money, or resources.

As for the rest of the month, let's all commit to being healthier and happier by getting involved: "People who engage in kind acts become happier over time." It's that simple, according to Sonja Lyubomirsky, Ph.D., a professor of psychology at the University of California, Riverside. Lyubomirsky, who has studied happiness for over 20 years, found that performing positive acts once a week led to the most happiness.

When we give of ourselves, everything from life satisfaction to self-realization and physical health is significantly improved. So, if you are the recipient of kindness or witness it in others, please let us know. Peel Inc. loves to publish stories of kindness and goodwill. And, as you know, that is what we foster in our Fairfield neighborhoods. You can reach me at jackiedevine@peelinc.com or by calling 832.316.6006.

Fairfield Athletic Club Has Something for Everyone

Having something for everyone in the community starting with excellent programs, professional instructors, state-of-the-art equipment—plus intangibles like time availability, location, and family focus makes Fairfield Athletic Club a top-notch facility.

"That's our goal" states Darlene Sedelmyer, Fairfield Athletic Club Director, "Located in the heart of Fairfield, our family-oriented fitness center offers members a safe, clean, and friendly place to work on their health and fitness objectives in a fun, competitive and interactive environment."

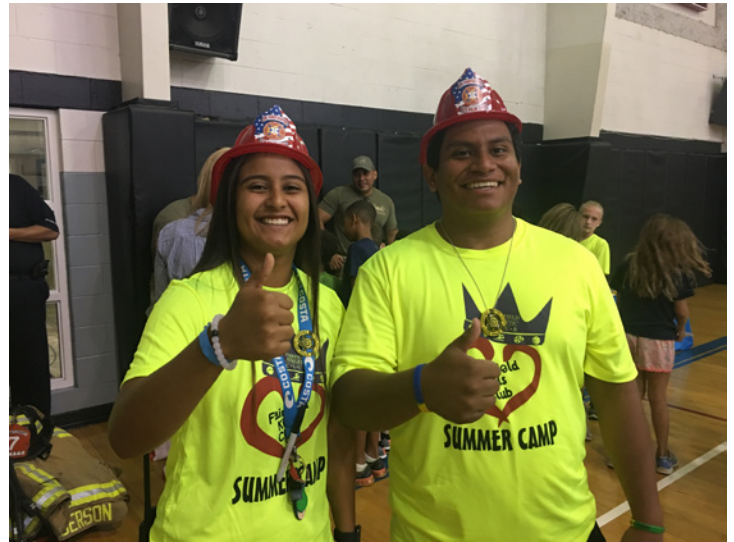

"Speaking of which," adds Darlene, "I'm particularly proud of FAC's Summer Camp which offers a different theme each week, such as Star Wars, Wacky Science and NEW this summer is Shark Week! Children enjoy swimming, tennis instruction, arts and crafts, games and sharing time with friends. One of the favorite camps is FAC's Got Talent, where the kids show off their skills and talents!" added, Darlene.

In addition to camps, FAC offers Before and After School programs that provide students help with their homework and give them the chance to swim in the heated pool (weather permitting), play sports and games, and be a kid in safe and supportive surroundings.

For teens and adults, wherever one is in life's journey, they'll find a variety of practical and accessible fitness and nutrition programs tailored to one's specific needs. When it comes to personal training, emphasizes Kathy Melloy, the FAC fitness trainer, "Fitness isn't one size. I talk to my clients first to assess their goals; then I tailor their workouts to fit their purposes. For those preferring to workout with others, we offer small groups maybe 4-6 people, where we target different muscle groups each workout."

Fairfield Kids Club counselors Briana & Robert at Law Enforcement Appreciation Day.

The FAC works with Infuse Yoga and Exercise to offer group fitness classes at the Club and the Lakeside Trails clubhouse. Whether someone is getting ready for a class reunion, family reunion, summer vacation or just trying to improve their overall health, there is a perfect program for them. Each offers an exceptional variety of workout and nutrition classes right in our own back yard. The music is clean, and they also provide God-centered yoga classes. The goal of all of the classes is to focus on building a positive individual—inside and out. "I love working as an instructor because of the love and motivation that stems from each workout, causing not just external changes but internal changes as well!" says Infuse instructor Dr. Lorelle S. Rich. Members are invited to bring a friend, a mat and water and try your first class for free!

"Our academy is designed to build each player's game and develop them into a complete player using instructional drills and match play," emphasizes Jorden. "From beginners to advanced participants, we use different techniques and technical instruction to bring out the best in each player. I want to give a special shout out to Megan Brady on winning the recent challenger tournament and advancing to the championship level. Great job Megan! I welcome all Fairfield residents - young and those a little older to our Academy right here at the FAC."

In addition to locations in the neighborhood, Fairfield Sports Association also organizes activities at the Fairfield Athletic Club. Volunteers coordinate Volleyball, basketball, soccer, baseball, and T-ball leagues. For more information go to fairfieldsports.net

Yogurtland is Here to Serve You! by Jackie Devine

"It's super modern but gives you a warm old-timey feeling when you walk through the door. Brittany greets you like you are her long lost friend and so glad you dropped by," commented Jo Ann Lambert, trip coordinator for Fairfield Seniors of Cypress. "You have to check out Yogurtland!" So, I did!

Fresh out of college, Brittany Bruner was looking for an opportunity to apply her newly acquired skills when her dad, who eventually become her business partner, told her to investigate a Yogurtland franchise. One look and the rest was history.

If you haven't tried it, stop in and give yourself a treat. The serve yourself and pay-by-weight shop offers 16 flavors of frozen yogurt and more than five dozen toppings. And, toppings alone can be a dessert in themselves. They include fruit, nuts, candies, chocolates, crumbled cookies and pieces of cake.

During my interview with Brittany, Alesha Ciminieri, a customer walked in. Even though she was not yet open for business, Brittany jumped up and started flipping on the yogurt machines, shut down since the night before - a testament to her customer-friendly approach.

Seizing the chance to interview a patron, I asked Alesha why yogurt instead of ice cream? Smiling she said, "Because it is more nutritional, lower in calories and tastes great, my favorite is "Plain Tart and Cake Batter."

In addition to down-home service, Yogurtland, located in the HEB business complex, sponsors school fundraisers, sports fundraisers, field trips, etc.

Dear Team Nichols Supporters

by Susan Nichols (mom)

As all of you know Andrew was nominated for Student of the Year for the Leukemia Lymphoma Society (LLS). With permission from LLS and BSA Andrew choose to do a toy drive for Teens with cancer in conjunction with raising funds and awareness for blood cancer. He wanted to target teens because they are often the most forgotten in the donation process. He capitalized on the Christmas season when people are more likely to buy an extra gift, but made a choice to deliver the toys after the new year when many hospitals have a drop off in donations. On January 29th, Andrew and his fellow student team members (including Scouts) delivered over 1,600 toys and $450 in gift cards to Texas Children's Hospital!

Andrew, his team, and fellow Scouts spent countless hours securing drop off locations (22 to be exact) by driving all over our community and here are some of the things they accomplished:

- Met with business managers, churches, owners, local doctor's offices, schools and educating them on his Eagle project and LLS.
- Secured community reporters who also wrote articles for community papers about the campaign and toy drive
 - Put a notice of the drive on the marquee in our neighborhood.
 - Visited, emailed and called local businesses after school about donating gift cards and once they secured gift cards went on shopping sprees to add to their toys. (Even standing in long lines on Black Friday to maximize every penny)
- A team member had her birthday party and requested friends bring gifts for cancer patients instead of her getting a birthday gift.
- Got a friend to reach out to his distributors for thousands of dollars worth of beauty products.
- Participated in a Pictures with Santa day at a local real estate company and entertained kids with crafts, cookies, and cocoa as they donated toys.
- Each night posted on the Facebook page developed for his campaign (TeamNicholsLLS) to keep everyone up to date of the toy drive progress.

LLS awards one Student of the Year Candidate with the Mission - Citizenship Award for not for just raising funds, but for their volunteer efforts and engaging the community to impact those battling cancer while also raising awareness of LLS.

I can't emphasize enough how much it has meant to Rob and me to have friends, family and members of our beloved community invest into the life of our children. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts!

Family Search Comes to Fairfield Creek Estates by Janet Guthrie

Historian Henry Louis Gates, Jr. once said, "I believe that the more each of us understands about where we came from, about what our ancestors experienced, and how those experiences have shaped us, whether we knew about them or not, the more richly we can live our lives."

As we age, reviewing our history and that of our ancestors takes on a whole new meaning. That's why the residents of Fairfield Creek Estates, were delighted to welcome Sisters Cloward, Ethington, and Killings, missionaries with Fairfield's Church of Latter Day Saints so they could learn more about capturing their personal histories. What a wonderful resource for the community!

While the reach of genealogy is as vast as humankind itself (the Church's website FamilySearch.org currently holds over three billion records and grows daily), family history work also functions on the local level.

FCE residents were excited to learn that the FamilySearch site allows users to accumulate and save the stories and photos of their ancestors. Users can record their own stories for their posterity, thereby linking generations who would otherwise not know each other.

The best part of FamilySearch is that it's as comprehensive and easy to use as Ancestry.com but doesn't cost anything. You can view scanned documents, look up details about your ancestors and build a family tree complete with photos without spending a dime. The church started the Genealogical Society of Utah in 1894 which eventually grew to become FamilySearch, an entity which has over 5,000 public family history centers in 129 countries. The centers and website are free and open to the public, so even if you aren't religious, they've gathered roughly 5 billion resources you can use in your genealogy research. The group also collaborates with more than 200 archives around the globe.

The Fourth @ Fairfield By Joan Hagan (Press Release – Jan 30, 2019)

The Fairfield Women's Club and the Fairfield Village Community Association invite you and your family and friends to celebrate "The Fourth @ Fairfield!" At 9am, on Thursday July 4th, a colorful parade with bands, fire trucks, scouts, classic automobiles, and much more will leave from Ault Elementary! From there it will wind through the neighborhood and end at Central Park..... near Salyards Middle School.

Then, at Salyards, join us for a fun-filled community event from 10AM–2PM. The activities will include colorful inflatables, a dunk tank, food trucks, live entertainment, game booths, vendors, and more! New this year, game booths and vendors will be inside the school!

The proceeds from this event go back into the Fairfield community to benefit our schools, fire station, and constables. We can't do this without community support! Thanks to the Fairfield Village Community Association for being the major sponsor for our July 4th Parade and Festivities. For more information, check out the FWC website at www.fairfieldwomensclub.org. You can also visit our Fourth@Fairfield event page on the Fairfield Women's Club Facebook page.

Salyards had 185 1st Division Ratings

by Joe Glass, Charles Roberman, and Taylor Johnston

Nothing could slow down the Salyards Band this semester! The band directors are extremely proud of the students to strive ahead and maximize their potential. We have some of the most talented and hardworking students!

On February 1st and 2nd, 138 band students performed individually and in small groups at the CFISD Solo and Ensemble Contest. Judges listen to solo and small ensembles and give ratings based on the quality of the performance. A 1st division rating stands for a superior performance and is the highest rating possible. The Salyards Band had 185 1st division ratings for solos and ensembles. What a great representation of their musical talent!

The band is currently preparing for UIL Concert and Sight-reading Evaluation. The Symphonic Winds, Symphonic Band, and Concert Winds perform 3 selections from a prescribed music list for 3 judges. The judges give a rating for the performance and we hope to continue the tradition of superior performances for the Salyards Bands!

We want to thank all our band families and the community for their constant support of our program. We are extremely blessed to be a part of Salyards Middle School and the wonderful community of Fairfield!

News You Can Use

March at Second Baptist

by Jonathan Spencer, Adult Ministries Pastor

The Women's Ministry at Second Baptist Church has been very busy this Spring semester! Since January, they have launched two weekday Bible Studies, one on Tuesday mornings and the other on Wednesday nights. These two groups offer women of all ages an opportunity to connect with others and better understand how God's Word applies to their lives. For moms with young children, these studies also provide a great opportunity for mothers to take a break from their children, as the church provides amazing children's programming during class.

Last month, Second also offered their first women's event of the year, "Draw Near." Over 300 Cypress ladies gathered together for a night of worship a powerful message from a guest speaker. Afterwards, participants enjoyed a time of fellowship with cookies, coffee, and fun photo spots in the lobby. This month, the Women's Ministry is offering another big event. They will be sending a large group out for a women's retreat in The Woodlands. Ladies from all six Second Baptist campuses will come together at the Marriott Waterway hotel for a weekend of fun and great teaching from nationally acclaimed author and speaker, Lisa Harper.

If you haven't connected yet, March is the perfect opportunity to plug in to the Women's Ministry! In addition to the women's retreat, Second is also launching a brand new Bible Study for the Tuesday morning and Wednesday night groups. Beginning after Spring Break, both classes will begin journeying through Lysa TerKeurst's "Finding I Am" Bible Study. The Second Family would like to invite all Cypress ladies to come participate in this amazing community of women this month. For more information or questions, visit www.second.org/cypress or facebook.com/secondcypress.

Lenten Season Begins

Good Shepherd United Methodist Church will mark the beginning of the Lenten season, leading up to Easter, with two events open to everyone. On Shrove Tuesday, March 5, we will have our annual pancake supper beginning at 7 pm in the church gym. Bring the whole family for all the pancakes and bacon you can eat. Then, come back on Wednesday, March 6 at 7 pm for our Ash Wednesday service in the Good Shepherd Worship Center. This service reminds us of our own mortality and our need of the grace of God as found through our Savior, Jesus Christ.

COF Mission Spotlight: Human Trafficking

According to the FBI, here in this country, people are being bought, sold, and smuggled like modern-day slaves. They are often beaten, starved, and forced to work as prostitutes or take jobs as migrant, domestic, restaurant, or factory workers with little or no pay. Over the past decade, human trafficking has been identified as a heinous crime which exploits the most vulnerable in society. Among the Civil Rights Unit's priorities is its human trafficking program, based on the passage of the 13th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which provided that "neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States."

Under the human trafficking program, the Bureau investigates matters where a person was induced to engage in commercial sex acts through force, fraud, or coercion, or to perform any labor or service through force, coercion, or threat of law or legal process. Typically, human trafficking cases fall under the following investigative areas:

- Domestic Sex Trafficking of Adults: When persons are compelled to engage in commercial sex acts through means of force, fraud, and/or coercion.

- Sex Trafficking of International Adults and Children: When foreign nationals, both adult and juveniles, are compelled to engage in commercial sex acts with a nexus to the United States through force, fraud, and/or coercion. (Note: Matters of domestic juvenile sex trafficking are handled by the FBI's Violent Crimes against Children Section.)

- Forced Labor: When persons, domestic or foreign nationals, are compelled to work in some service or industry through force or coercion.

- Domestic Servitude: When persons, domestic or foreign nationals, are compelled to engage in domestic work for families or households, through means of force or coercion.

Community of Faith serves alongside partners, locally and internationally, who are making a difference in these statistics. We would love for you to join us at 16124 Becker Rd, Hockley, TX 77447 Phone: (832) 875-2520
