TWSC Invites Singers to Perform with them at Pavilion

The Woodlands Show Chorus (TWSC) will be participating in two patriotic performances during the week of July 4th: first as the opening act for The Houston Symphony's prestigious annual Star-Spangled Salute on Wednesday, July 3rd at the Cynthia Woods Mitchell Pavilion, and second headlining at the Sunday Lawn Concert Series presented by Bernhardt Winery on Sunday, July 7th. To share the fun with more members of our community, TWSC is inviting women singers to join them in singing at one or both of these shows.

Since performance standards are high, interested women of all ages should attend TWSC weekly Monday night rehearsals at The First Presbyterian Church (Family Life Center Building) at 2727 N Loop 336 W in Conroe (directly across from the McDonald's). Weekly rehearsals will be held between May 13 and July 1 from 7:00 pm to 8:00 pm to help newcomers learn the music and perfect their performance. The songs will be well-known patriotic numbers arranged in 4-part a capella harmony. Although it is helpful, there is no requirement to read music.

Since its beginning in 2012 as the largest and fastest chartering chorus in Sweet Adelines International (SAI), this prodigious chorus has won its first four regional competitions with exceptionally high scores, and they competed well internationally in Baltimore, Las Vegas, and most recently last fall in St. Louis. TWSC is now feverishly working toward their next international competition in Louisville, KY in October, 2020. If you ask any member of this exciting chorus why she sings, she will tell you it is for the JOY – the joy of striving for excellence through consistent education, training and performance. It provides a strong purpose for her life outside of her family, work and daily routine.

The nearly 70 members of the TWSC anticipate that both performances will be fun for all who attend and will give women in our community an opportunity to make friends with others who enjoy singing as a hobby. Contact Shayna Stubblefield at info@thewoodlandsshowchorus.org or 888-246-2313 for more details.

After these performances, TWSC will present its own annual show, "TWSC Live, A Casual Evening of Red Carpet Entertainment, July 13, at Sts Simon & Jude Catholic Church in The Woodlands. It features the fun and fabulous

SAI international silver medalist quartet, Viva! and is a wine and cheese (plus other refreshments) event with silent auction, door prizes and more! Doors open at 4:00 pm for refreshments with the show starting at 5:00 pm. Tickets are $25 adult, $20 senior/children, and $30 reserved. Group rates are also available by emailing tickets@TheWoodlandsShowChorus.org or calling 713.688.6509.

Red Nose Day

On Saturday, May 4th, team members from Walgreens Cy-Fair district got together to raise money for Red Nose Day. We went to "Painting With a Twist," and painted a landscape on canvas. The price was $35 a head and this business gave half of the proceeds back to help with our charity. We raised a lot of money at this event and had A lot of fun. Red Nose Day is a chance for us to help end child poverty.

Red Nose Day is a campaign with the mission to end child poverty by funding programs that keep children safe, healthy, and educated. Through the power of entertainment, we bring people together to laugh and have fun, all while raising life-changing cash for the children that need it the most. Since our debut in 2015, we have raised nearly $150 million and have positively impacted over 16 million children in America, and around the world.

Red Nose Day was on Thursday May 23, 2019. The campaign kicked off on April 22, when the Red Noses go on sale in Walgreens stores nationally. It all culminated on Thursday, May 23 with a special night of TV celebrating Red Nose Day on NBC.

Cypress Chapel Hosts Cornhole Tournament Benefiting Shield Bearer

Cypress Chapel recently hosted a Cornhole Tournament and donated the proceeds to local non-profit Shield Bearer. It was a fun day for local families that included the tournament, lunch at Creekwood Grill, and a silent auction. "Our church family had a great time putting this event together. An important part of our mission is serving the community together and this tournament was a wonderful opportunity to do just that," shared Pastor Stephen DeMik. "From organizing the teams, to gathering silent auction items, to setting up in the rain, our church family came together and made this event a wonderful success."

"Cypress Chapel and Shield Bearer share a passion for strengthening local families," added Shield Bearer Associate Director Melissa Rotholz, "we are so thankful for their partnership. With support from generous partners like Cypress Chapel, we are able to provide professional counseling services and programs for local families, even when they have financial concerns. Together we are helping families find healing and hope again."

Cypress Chapel is a body of believers and disciples of Jesus Christ who seek to follow His direction and mission through worship, home gatherings, and rhythmic patterns of service and involvement in the community. The central focus of the ministry is relationships - with God, with other Christians, and with people who do not yet know Jesus. More information about Cypress Chapel can be found online at cypresschapel.tv.

Shield Bearer is a Houston based 501c3 nonprofit counseling and community resource center that provides services on a sliding scale. Shield Bearer has six locations in the Houston area and serves individuals, couples, and families including those recovering from the trauma of human trafficking, domestic violence, crime, abuse, war, and natural disasters. Additional information about services and programs can be found online at shieldbearer.org or by calling (281) 894-7222.

TIRR Memorial Hermann

TIRR Memorial Hermann becomes first Houston partner of the U.S. Department of State Global Sports Mentoring Program: Sport for Community welcomes international leader and delegate from the United Arab Emirates

TIRR Memorial Hermann recently became the first Houston area host site for the U.S. Department of State Global Sports Mentoring Program: Sport for Community (GSMP), which is implemented by The University of Tennessee's Center for Sport, Peace, and Society.

Each year, GSMP provides approximately 15 international leaders in the disability sport sector with opportunities to participate in its five-week exchange program in the United States. Delegates are matched with executives at leading disability sport organizations across the U.S.

TIRR Memorial Hermann will host Klaithem Almatrooshi, Head of Female Section and Deputy Chairwoman at the Al Thiqah Club for Handicapped in the United Arab Emirates city of Sharjah.

"We are honored to have Klaithem here to learn more and work with our Adaptive Sports Program," said Jerry Ashworth, CEO of TIRR Memorial Hermann. "TIRR is committed to improving the lives of people with disabilities in the Houston community and throughout the world through collaborations and initiatives such as the Global Sports Mentoring Program."

In her current role, Almatrooshi trains volunteers on how to work with people with motor disabilities, coordinates with trainers on the details of tournaments and competitions, and works with staff to meet the needs of female members of Al Thiqah Club for Handicapped. She also provides social and psychological support by conducting case studies and fulfilling the needs of disability cases.

"What I hope to learn most at TIRR Memorial Hermann is how to transfer best practices in the field of disabilities and adapt them to the UAE in order to advocate for Emiratis with disabilities as effective citizens in society," Almatrooshi said. "I want to enrich my skills and awareness of disability sports and techniques in the United States. I look forward to learning how to support families of those with disabilities because they are the first and most important partners in the development of their children."

Peggy Turner, Adaptive Sports Coordinator at TIRR Memorial Hermann, will serve as Almatrooshi's mentor.

"This is a great opportunity for TIRR Memorial Hermann to make an impact in the lives of athletes with disabilities thousands of miles away," Turner said. "I look forward to working with Klaithem to identify new practices and opportunities for the members of the Al Thiqah Club in Sharjah."

Almatrooshi will be leading the planning of the International Wheelchair and Amputee Sports Federation World Games in the UAE later this year. She also spreads awareness about the Al

Thiqah Club and its services through participation in television interviews that cover the Club's activities.

"I also want to help change the media discourse and view of disabilities in the UAE so that they cover disability issues in a realistic manner," Almatrooshi said.

Participants in the GSMP immerse themselves in the day-to-day activities of their mentors and learn more about sports programs for people with disabilities. At the end of the program, participants travel to Washington, D.C., to present strategic action plans based on what they learned before returning home to implement those measures in their countries.

"We are humbled to walk alongside Klaithem who is working diligently to make a difference for persons with disabilities in the UAE," said Sarah Hillyer, clinical assistant professor and director of the Center for Sport, Peace, and Society at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville. "Thanks to the support and investment of mentors like Peggy and host organizations like TIRR Memorial Hermann, we continue to see the power of sport being used in innovative ways to create more inclusive communities."

In 2018, the GSMP: Sport for Community was named "Diplomatic Action of the Year" at the Peace and Sport Awards in Greece. Its sister program, Global Sports Mentoring Program which is in partnership with espnW and focuses on empowering women, was named a Stuart Scott ENSPIRE Award at the ESPN Humanitarian awards.

In addition to its comprehensive approach to clinical care, research and education, TIRR Memorial Hermann focuses on taking care of the community to truly impact and serve its patients through advocacy in order to help patients achieve more in their recoveries.

"Advocacy is woven into our fabric and an important element of what we do at TIRR Memorial Hermann and we are committed to raising awareness, educating people about the inequalities that exist and removing barriers," Ashworth said. "We advocate through our community wellness program and through our adapted sports programs."

The TIRR Memorial Hermann Adaptive Sports Program was developed in the mid-1990s to give athletes with all types of disabilities an outlet to continue playing sports both competitively and through intramural programs, including: basketball, rugby, hand cycling and ultimate frisbee.
