AUCTION EVENT SET TO RAISE FUNDS FOR CITY OF DOUBLE HORN

On September 26th members of the Double Horn community are hosting an auction event with a western theme, “Boots, Chaps & Cowboy Hats” at Spicewood Vineyards in support of the recently incorporated City of Double Horn. Starting at 6:30pm there will be live and silent auctions, live music, door prizes, gourmet appetizers, and a cash bar. Proceeds from this event will go towards legal expenses necessary to defend the City against an unwarranted and unprecedented lawsuit filed by the Texas Attorney General.

In December, 2018 the citizens of Double Horn Creek subdivision and the surrounding area voted to incorporate to protect their property rights and quality of life from the onslaught of aggregate/mining operations moving into the area. On February 2, 2019 elected officials were sworn in and the City of Double Horn was officially re-established in Burnet County. In March, the State of Texas challenged the city's right to incorporate at the urging of attorneys for Spicewood Crushed Stone, a rock quarry operation recently permitted by the TCEQ. On April 3rd, The Honorable Judge Evan Stubbs in the 424th District Court ruled to deny the State's petition. However, the State has appealed despite clear evidence that the City of Double Horn met the requirements for incorporation. Meanwhile the City of Double Horn continues to accrue legal expenses with no access to tax revenue until 2020.

To donate or to order fundraiser tickets, please email DoubleHornVolunteers@gmail.com. To learn more, visit the “News & Events” tab on the city's website at <https://doublehorn.tx.org/>

LOCAL SHELTER HAS A NEW IDENTITY

The hundreds of dogs that have been rescued, fostered, and placed in loving homes haven't noticed, but the name of their benefactor recently changed from Highland Lakes SPCA to Highland Lakes Canine Rescue.

HLCR Board Member Jeanne Gillen said the name was changed to more appropriately reflect the organization's focus and mission. "Our mission is to rescue, rehabilitate and secure loving and healthy forever homes for abandoned dogs in the Texas Hill Country. We strive to be the best no-kill shelter in the Hill Country. The name change to Highland Lakes Canine Rescue distinguishes us as a specialty dog rescue organization, eliminates any public uncertainty as to the animals we rescue and shelter, and reduces confusion with other organizations."

Gillen said HLCR is a unique canine rescue organization in our Hill Country area. "We rescue dogs who are 'at risk' in shelters throughout the Central Texas area and provide an array of support for every one of the dogs in our care." Standard HLCR services include: full vaccinations, care and treatment for heartworm positive dogs so they can recover and become someone's new best friend, spaying and neutering of all dogs, ensuring dogs obtain optimum health before they are available for adoption, fully vetting applicants who want to adopt to ensure both adopter and dog are a good match, following up with adopters to help both the adopter and the dog transition successfully, allowing adopted dogs to be returned under certain circumstances in order to find them more suitable homes, and maintaining a 24-hour on site staff caring for the dogs.

Gillen said HLCR provides an exceptional collection of support facilities for their rescued dogs, including indoor kennels, large outdoor pens, agility equipment, and extensive walking trails where dogs interact daily with staff and volunteers. Every dog that comes to HLCR receives the veterinary care, rehabilitation and training they need to find the right adoptive owner. They also have a dedicated group of foster families who provide special, focused care in the environment of a home.

Once HLCR rescues a dog, Gillen says it will never be euthanized because of length of stay, space limitations, treatable medical or behavioral issues, or inconvenience. "Unless a dog develops a terminal medical condition or a serious, uncorrectable behavioral issue that make it genuinely not adoptable, dogs stay in our shelter until they find their forever homes."

Highland Lakes Canine Rescue was founded in 1999 as Highland Lakes SPCA, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, by area residents including Board Member and visionary Suzanne Owens who wanted to rescue homeless dogs in the Central Texas region. Initially begun as a "foster only" organization, community donations enabled the group to obtain a location near Marble Falls for its shelter facilities. Gillen said HLCR has a staff, a resident Executive Director, a resident Facilities Manager, and is blessed by an active and passionate group of volunteers who work tirelessly supporting HLCR and its mission.

At any given time, HLCR has between 15 and 23 dogs in the shelter, and may have additional dogs living with foster families if the dog's situation warrants, such as a medical or socialization issue that would be best addressed in a home environment.

Gillen says HLCR is primarily funded by area businesses and individuals through donations, and sponsorship of and participation in HLCR fund raising events. "Without them, HLCR could not serve Central Texas and rescue homeless dogs in so much need of our care."

An apt new name for a group with an admirable 20 year track record serving our community.

Blue Water Highway, a rising Austin-based (but touring relentlessly) roots-rock band, launches the first season of Spicewood Live, Spicewood Arts' newly renamed concert season, at 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 21.

The concert is at the Event

Center of Spicewood Vineyards, 1419 Co. Rd. 409, Spicewood. Purchase tickets ($40) at www.spicewoodarts.org after Sept. 1. Check whether season tickets, which offer a considerable savings, may still be available.

Blue Water Highway takes its name from the roadway that links their hometown of Lake Jackson, TX to Galveston. Their music is rooted in stories about the hardworking people from the coastal region around Lake Jackson and is characterized by RoughStock magazine as "a folksy sound blended with Americana-influenced sounds" with a touch of the blues.

The band is fronted by Zack Kibodeaux and Greg Essington, friends and songwriting partners since high school. They're joined in three-part harmony by Catherine Clarke (vocals/keyboard) with bassist Kyle Smith and drummer Jared Wilson rounding out the group. For more information about the band, see <https://www.bluewaterhighwayband.com/>

Spicewood Arts, formerly known as the Spicewood Arts Society, rebranded this season with a trimmed down logo and new colors to emphasize its expanded reach. Be a Hero this Halloween

Being a hero goes beyond dressing up in a costume this Halloween season. Children, families and schools across the country can channel their own superpowers to help deliver lifesaving supplies to children in need this October.

One way to use your superpowers is to Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF, which began in 1950 when girls and boys across the United States collected coins in hand-painted milk cartons to help children affected by World War II. Celebrating its 69th year, this nostalgic tradition continues today as America's longest running youth volunteer program with generations of children running door to door holding signature orange boxes and singing, "Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF."

With over $180 million raised for health care, education, nutrition and more, the program has evolved into a month-long celebration of the power of kids helping kids. Throughout October, kids, parents and teachers across the country can be real superheroes by collecting donations, big and small.

Equipped with the iconic orange boxes, families can raise funds that add up to lifesaving change. As little as $1 can provide safe water to a child for more than 2 months; $3 can provide seven packets of therapeutic food; $5 can provide a pack of 10 notebooks and $7 can provide one warm fleece blanket for a child.

Halloween has become a "heroic" way to help others and build the next generation of global citizens. When kids trick-or-treat for a cause, they learn about global issues and feel empowered to make a difference.

Start creating real-world change by picking up your own little orange box. With the support of Visa Inc., the iconic box will glow in the dark, allowing superpowers to shine even brighter.

Visit TrickorTreatforUNICEF.org to download a DIY change box, donate online or find an event near you. Share your story on social media with #TOT4UNICEF, #WeCanAllBeHeroes and #KidsHelpingKids.
